How to use / When it’s useful

Insert the tubolare into the epaulette of your shirt or sweater for an immediate, neat display of rank. Quick answer: slide the tubolare into the epaulette pocket so the front face is fully visible.

These are useful whenever you need a clear on-duty rank display—daily patrols, custodial duties, formal inspections, or any duty requiring official identification. In most cases, the tubolare remains secured during normal activity; verify fit before the first shift.
