How to use / When it’s useful

The fregio is made to be applied to the stiff male peaked cap to add formal distinction on parade, ceremony or official duty. It keeps its appearance over time when handled and stored correctly.

Quick answer: Use it on the berretto rigido maschile for official uniforms and formal occasions. In most cases, the 9 x 12 cm variant is chosen for broad visibility while the 10 x 7 cm variant suits a more balanced, narrow fit on red-backed caps.

Care and notes

Basic care preserves the embroidery and colour; follow identification rules before purchase.

- Store flat in a dry place and avoid crushing the embroidery.
- Do not use harsh chemicals; spot clean gently if necessary and consider professional textile cleaning for stubborn stains.
- Handle by the cloth edges to avoid oil transfer from hands onto the metal thread.
- Sale restricted: purchase requires military ID or service attestation; collectors must provide the prefectoral licence under art. 28 TULPS.
