How to use / When it’s useful

Mount the band on the 37 mm ribbon of the Croce commemorativa to clearly identify service in Operazione Strade Sicure. It complements a duty or police medallist without altering the ribbon’s proportions.

Quick answer: use this band only on the 37 mm version of the Croce commemorativa per la Pubblica Sicurezza. In most cases, it is fitted for uniform displays, medagliere, and collector sets focused on contemporary national operations.

Care and notes

Keep the band clean and mounted correctly to preserve its institutional appearance and to avoid non-regulation modifications to uniform decorations.

- Clean with a soft, dry cloth; avoid abrasive cleaners or polishing that could change the bronzed finish.
- Intended only for the 37 mm ribbon; the 20 mm version of the decoration does not use this band.
- One standard band is used regardless of the number of mandates—no alternative sizes for multiple deployments.
- Maintain a regulated, sober appearance; avoid unauthorized customizations when worn on uniform or medagliere.

FAQ

Q: Is the band compatible with any ribbon?

A: No. The band is specifically designed for the 37 mm ribbon of the Croce commemorativa per la Pubblica Sicurezza. It will not fit the reduced 20 mm version.

Q: Does a 20 mm version of the band exist?

A: No. The 20 mm version of the decoration is produced without a band, so this accessory is intended only for the 37 mm configuration.

Q: Does the band change according to the number of mandates served?

A: No. The same model is used regardless of how many mandates a person has completed; it is a single identifying band.

Q: Is the metal shiny or matte?

A: The finish is bronzed for a restrained, institutional look. It is designed to match uniform decorations without excessive shine.

Q: Is this band suitable for collectors?

A: Yes. It is appropriate for collectors who assemble contemporary sets or period medagliere focused on national operations and military surplus.

Q: How can I avoid buying the wrong format?

A: Check that your croce or ribbon is the 37 mm standard size before purchasing. If your decoration is the reduced 20 mm format, this band will not be compatible.

Tip: Choose the 37 mm option when preparing a uniform or medagliere and consider matching accessories from your collection to keep proportions and presentation consistent; browse related ribbon and mounting items to complete the set.
