Insulated Poncho Liner Vegetata Camouflage

Product price:

€39.90 tax included

Product codes:

Reference: Art. 14921
EAN13: 0658606560666
UPC: 658606560666

Product features:

Product short description:

Thermal insulated poncho cover in vegetation-style camouflage, designed to add warmth and concealment when temperatures drop. Suitable for hikers, campers and urban outdoor users.

- Material: Made from quality insulating materials to retain body heat while remaining lightweight.
- Insulation: Thermal lining helps maintain warmth in cold conditions without excessive bulk.
- Design: Vegetation-style camouflage pattern for a natural, low-profile look.
- Fit: Lightweight and easy to wear over or attach to a poncho, allowing full freedom of movement.

Product description:

Product overview

The Vegetated Thermal Liner for Poncho is a padded liner designed for use with military-style ponchos, made for soldiers, police, emergency responders and outdoor enthusiasts who need reliable warmth and weather protection. Definition: a lightweight, insulated liner that attaches to a poncho to improve thermal performance and can also be used as a standalone blanket.

This liner provides wind resistance, even heat distribution and quick attachment to a poncho via side ties. It is a practical piece of tactical and military surplus gear for patrols, field operations, camping or emergency use, available from Tutto Militare.

Main features

Key design and material choices focus on durability, stability and thermal performance for duty use, tactical operations and outdoor activities.

- Central head hole for easy wear under a poncho or over clothing.
- 8 side ties to secure the liner quickly and keep it in position during movement.
- Outer fabric: 100% Nylon Taffeta for wind resistance and durability.
- Filling: 100% Polyester for lightweight insulation and heat retention.
- Quilted construction prevents the filling from shifting for consistent warmth.
- Size: 150x210 cm for full-body coverage or shared use.

How to use / When it’s useful

Attach the liner to a compatible poncho using the eight ties and pass the head through the central hole to wear it as an insulated underlayer. Quick answer: use it under a poncho for added warmth and wind protection during patrols or operations.

When not worn, spread the liner flat and use it as a thermal blanket for rest breaks, bivouac or emergency shelter. In most cases, it fits standard RipStop ponchos and can be shared between team members for added versatility during cold weather activities.

Care and notes

Simple care keeps the liner functional and extends its service life.

- Hand wash with warm water to preserve materials and insulation.
- Air dry thoroughly before storage to avoid dampness or odors.
- Store dry and folded to maintain quilting and insulation distribution.

FAQ

Q: Is the liner compatible with all ponchos?

A: It is designed to fit most military-style ponchos, especially RipStop models. The eight side ties make attachment quick and secure.

Q: What are the liner dimensions?

A: The liner measures 150x210 cm, providing generous coverage from shoulders to feet for most users.

Q: What materials are used?

A: The outer shell is 100% Nylon Taffeta and the filling is 100% Polyester for a balance of wind resistance and thermal retention.

Q: Can I use it as a blanket?

A: Yes. It converts easily into a thermal blanket for rest periods, emergencies or shared use among team members.

Q: How do I clean the liner?

A: Hand wash in warm water and let it air dry. This helps maintain the integrity of the fabrics and insulation.

Q: Is the filling likely to clump?

A: The liner uses a quilted construction to reduce movement of the filling and maintain an even layer of insulation across the surface.

Tip: Choose the right variant or size for your poncho and expected conditions; consider browsing related tactical and military surplus items to complete your kit without rushing your choice.

Product attributes:

Product gallery: