How to use / When it's useful

Quick answer: wear the dragona attached to the sabre during formal ceremonies, parades and official events to show rank and tradition. In most cases, it is used by senior officers as part of the dress uniform during public duties and ceremonial duties.

The sliding loop lets you adjust the length for a neat, secure fit without restricting movement. Suitable for military surplus collectors, tactical uniform suppliers, and police or duty uniform use where a ceremonial sabre knot is required.

Care and notes

Proper care preserves the cord's shine and the nappa's shape. Handle gently and inspect fittings before use.

- Store dry and flat to avoid deforming the tassel and braid.
