Product overview

The Spring-Loaded Flexible Telescopic Baton for Personal Defense is a compact self-defense tool designed for adults who need a reliable, easy-to-carry option for personal protection, security duty, or tactical use. It is suitable for security professionals, private guards, or civilians seeking a compact defensive option.

Definition: A spring-loaded flexible telescopic baton is a collapsible baton that extends quickly via an internal spring for immediate use.

Main features

Designed for practicality and quick deployment, this baton combines a secure grip with compact transport size—useful for tactical, police, and duty applications.

- Non-slip molded grip: Shaped handle for a secure hold in all conditions.
- Ribbon handle: Additional strap for improved control and retention.
- Compact size: 19 cm closed for easy transport; 42 cm overall when extended.
- Lightweight and sturdy: Weighs 450 grams—balanced for carry without sacrificing durability.
- Spring-flex action: Internal spring allows rapid, controlled extension for quick response.
- Common duty issue: Often used by police and authorized private guards; classified as an improper weapon.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the baton as a defensive tool in emergency situations only. It is intended for short-range personal defense and for security or tactical roles where non-lethal control is required.

Quick answer: Deploy the baton when you need an immediate, controlled defensive response; always prioritize escape and calling for help. In most cases, carry it discreetly when allowed by law and use it only in accordance with local regulations and justified self-defense scenarios.

Care and notes

Keep the baton clean and check moving parts regularly to ensure reliable extension and retraction. Store it safely away from children.

- Only sold to adults; sale permitted but carrying is legally prohibited in many jurisdictions.
- Not available for purchase via PayPal.
- Manufacturer and seller disclaim responsibility for improper or illegal use.
- Inspect periodically for wear and avoid exposure to corrosive environments.
