Product overview

This flexible black eagle plume with rimbecco is a traditional decorative plume made for the Alpine hat, suitable for collectors, reenactors, ceremonial wear, and military surplus enthusiasts.

Definition: a flexible black eagle feather plume with a rimbecco (decorative notch) designed to be worn on the Alpine hat.

The plume links to Italian Alpine military history and patriotic tradition and is appreciated by buyers looking for authentic alpine or ceremonial accessories. It also fits well with tactical, military surplus, and duty-style collections.

Main features

Key details and authentic characteristics of the plume:

- Material: Made with eagle feather plumage as described in the original item description.
- Size: Approximately 27 cm in length and 7 cm in width; the quill (calamus) measures about 4 cm.
- Rimbecco detail: Features a rimbecco made from a bronze cigarette band, a traditional Alpine mark of completing a training camp.
- Color: Brown tone associated with Alpine units, giving an authentic look.
- Symbolism: The slightly tilted plume is a historic symbol of patriotism linked to Giuseppe Verdi’s opera about Ernani.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use this plume to dress an Alpine hat for ceremonies, parades, reenactments, or display in a military surplus collection. It is suitable for civilian collectors and for formal Alpine-style uniforms where such traditional decoration is required.

Quick answer: Attach the plume to the side of the hat where your unit or local custom places it. In most cases, the plume is worn slightly tilted and secured at the hat band or designated holder to match traditional Alpine styling.

Care and notes

Simple care keeps the plume in good condition; treat it like a delicate feather accessory and store it protected from moisture and crushing.

- Avoid exposure to strong moisture and direct heat; store flat or in a protective case.
- Handle by the quill (calamus) to preserve the feather shape and flex.
- Check local laws: possession of real bird feathers can be regulated—confirm legality in your area before purchase.
- Available in limited quantities; inspect on receipt for fit and condition.

FAQ

Q: What material is the plume made from?

A: The plume is described as made from eagle feather plumage. The product emphasizes traditional, authentic materials used in Alpine decorative plumes.

Q: What are the exact dimensions?

A: The plume measures approximately 27 cm in length, 7 cm in width, with a quill (calamus) of about 4 cm.

Q: What is the rimbecco?

A: The rimbecco is a small decorative detail made from a bronze cigarette band; historically it marked the completion of an Alpine training camp.

Q: Why is the color brown important?

A: Brown is traditionally associated with Alpine units, so a brown plume gives an authentic, unit-appropriate appearance for Alpine hats.

Q: What is the historical meaning of this plume?

A: The slightly tilted plume is a symbol of patriotic resistance in Alpine tradition and is linked culturally to Giuseppe Verdi’s opera about Ernani and the image of mountain heroes.

Q: Is this item legal and authentic?

A: The description notes authentic-style eagle plumage and traditional rimbecco details. Buyers should verify local regulations on owning real bird feathers before purchasing.

Tip: Choose the correct size and style for your Alpine hat and consider browsing related Alpine and military surplus accessories to complete a ceremonial or collection setup.
