- Material: Made on grey cloth consistent with historical use.
- Size: 9 x 6 cm — clearly visible on an Alpini hat or in a collection.
- Suitable for display or wear: Designed to be mounted on a hat or kept as a collectible.
- Historical value: Represents an important piece of Italian military history.
- Limited availability: Produced in restricted quantities for collectors and specialty outlets.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the badge for authentic period display, re-enactment uniforms, museum presentation, or as part of a military surplus and tactical gear collection. It works well on Alpini hats and in framed displays.

Quick answer: you can wear it on an Alpini hat or keep it as a collector’s item. In most cases, collectors attach the badge by sewing or mount it for exhibition; choose the method that suits display or wear needs.

Care and notes

Basic care keeps the cloth badge looking its best for display or occasional wear.

- Store flat in a dry place away from direct sunlight.
- Spot clean gently with a mild detergent and a soft cloth if needed.
- Avoid harsh chemicals, bleach, or machine washing to preserve fabric and stitching.
- Handle with clean hands to limit oils and dirt on the cloth surface.

FAQ

Q: Is this badge a faithful reproduction of the 1915 original?

A: Yes. The badge is produced as an accurate reproduction of the model adopted by Alpini officers in April 1915, keeping the original look and material choice in mind.

Q: What are the badge dimensions?

A: The badge measures 9 x 6 cm, making it easily visible on an Alpini hat or in a display case.

Q: What material is the badge made from?

A: It is made on grey cloth, following the historical fabric used for Alpini and Mountain Artillery headgear.

Q: Can the badge be worn on a hat?

A: Yes. The badge is suitable for mounting on an Alpini hat or for use in a uniform display; mounting is typically done by sewing or framing.

Q: Is the badge widely available?

A: No. Production is limited, so availability is restricted. This makes it a sought-after item for collectors and re-enactors.

Q: Was this badge used by other units besides the Alpini?

A: Historically, the badge design on grey cloth was also used by the Mountain Artillery for the Alpini hat, reflecting its broader period use.

Tip: Choose the appropriate placement (hat mounting or display) before purchase and check related historical badges and military surplus items to complete your collection or uniform setup.
