Armate. It is intended for military personnel and authorized collectors who need an official-looking rank device for duty uniforms.

Definition: a 2 cm diameter, serrated five-point metal star with a rear screw for secure attachment to rigid shoulder boards. Suitable keyword variations: military badge, tactical insignia, military surplus accessory.

Compact, durable and made for official uniform use, this star combines traditional appearance with a secure screw fastening.

- Silvered metal: polished appearance with a protective production treatment.
- Size: 2 cm diameter, suitable for rigid epaulettes/shoulder boards.
- Rear screw fastening: secure attachment designed to stay in place during active duty.
- Intended use: used on uniforms of Arma dei Carabinieri and Generali delle Forze Armate.
- Durability: manufactured to withstand regular wear in duty and ceremonial contexts.

How to use / When it’s useful

The star is mounted by inserting and tightening the rear screw through the hole in a rigid epaulette until secure; it marks rank and command responsibility on the uniform. Quick answer: attach by screwing the star onto the rigid shoulder board so the screw holds the piece firmly in place.

This accessory is most useful for official uniforms, parades and formal duty where a precise, professional appearance is required. In most cases, purchase and ownership are restricted: active military personnel must provide proof of service and collectors must hold the required prefectorial license (ex art. 28 TULPS) to acquire the item.

Care and notes

Minimal maintenance is needed to keep the star looking its best; follow these simple care steps and observe purchase restrictions.

- Cleaning: wipe with a soft, dry cloth to remove dust and fingerprints.
- Avoid harsh chemicals: do not use abrasive or strong chemical cleaners that could damage the finish.
- Storage: keep in a protective box or soft cloth, away from humidity and direct sunlight.
- Purchase warning: sale reserved to military personnel or licensed collectors, as required by law.
