Product overview

Mostrine San Marco are enamelled rank badges produced for the Reggimento San Marco of the Italian Navy. They are intended for serving members of the regiment and for authorised collectors who meet legal requirements.

Definition: Mostrine San Marco are enamelled shoulder insignia bearing the San Marco emblem, used to show affiliation and tradition on dress and duty uniforms. Keywords: military, tactical, duty, military surplus, collector.

Main features

Refined, symbolic design with precise dimensions and access limited by verification.

- Enamelled construction with artisan finish.
- Golden winged lion motif with tail down and right paw on an open book inscribed "PAX TIBI MARCE EVANGELISTA MEUS".
- Silver 5?point star positioned below the lion.
- Dimensions: 4.7 cm height × 2.5 cm width — sized for proper uniform placement.
- Available only to authorised personnel; purchase requires identity or service documentation.
- Collectors may buy only with a valid prefectural licence (ex art. 28 TULPS).

How to use / When it’s useful

These mostrine are intended to be worn on formal or duty uniforms to indicate membership in the Reggimento San Marco, and they also suit authorised collectors for display or preservation. Quick answer: wear on the designated uniform location for formal/duty use or add to a verified collection.

To buy, provide the required documentation during registration or via the site's contact process so the sale can be verified. In most cases, buyers are asked to indicate the command base as the delivery address if they are serving personnel.

Care and notes

Handle and store the mostrine with care to preserve enamel and metal finishes; follow these practical notes and legal requirements.

- Clean gently with a soft, dry cloth; avoid abrasive cleaners or solvents.
- Keep original documentation proving eligibility with your records.
- Sale is restricted to Reggimento San Marco members and authorised collectors — proof required.
- Stock is limited; availability depends on verification and demand.
