Product overview

The Travette Gala Generale Ricamate su Nero are a pair of embroidered gala rank tabs designed for a General's dress uniform. They are intended for officers who need a formal, high-quality insignia for ceremonial or dress occasions.

Definition: A pair of black cloth gala rank tabs embroidered with silver bullion thread and a red-outlined eagle, made for use on General dress uniforms. These items are valued in military and ceremonial duty wardrobes and are offered in limited quantities.

Main features

Quality materials and clear visual design make these travette suitable for formal uniforms and military surplus collections.

- Rectangular black cloth base with a silver perimeter border for a refined look.
- Silver canutiglia (bullion) thread embroidery for durability and visual contrast.
- Embroidered eagle motif with wings spread, outlined by a red silk thread on silver tape.
- Correct orientation: eagle’s legs point outward and the head faces forward as worn.
- Designed for dress uniforms and ceremonial duty; suitable for military collectors and surplus suppliers.
- Limited availability owing to production and demand.

How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: These travette are for formal dress uniforms and ceremonial occasions where rank insignia must be visible and properly presented. In most cases, they are fitted according to your service’s uniform regulations.

Use them for parades, inspections, official ceremonies, or when a full gala uniform is required. They are designed for easy attachment to dress uniforms; follow your organization’s rules for placement and fastening.

Care and notes

Basic care will keep the embroidery and cloth in good condition while respecting uniform regulations and storage needs.

- Clean gently by hand or spot-clean; avoid abrasive chemicals that can damage bullion thread.
- Store flat or laid with padding to prevent creasing of the embroidered eagle.
- Confirm placement and attachment method with your unit’s uniform guidelines before use.
- Limited stock: consider ordering replacements in advance if these are required for formal duty.

FAQ

Q: How do I attach the travette to my uniform?

A: These travette are made for standard dress uniform attachment. Follow your service's regulations for placement and fastening; if in doubt, consult your uniform officer.

Q: What materials are used?

A: The travette are embroidered on black cloth using silver canutiglia (bullion) thread, with a red silk outlining thread around the eagle motif.

Q: Are these suitable for all General dress uniforms?

A: They are designed for use with General gala or dress uniforms. Always verify compatibility and placement with your specific uniform regulations.

Q: Can I order multiple pairs?

A: Yes, multiple pairs can be ordered, but note that availability is limited due to demand and production.

Q: How do I clean and maintain the travette?

A: Spot-clean or hand-wash gently, avoid harsh chemicals, and store flat to protect the embroidery and bullion thread.

Q: What should I check before purchasing?

A: Check your unit's uniform rules for correct insignia placement and ensure these travette meet your dress requirements before ordering.

Tip: Choose the correct variant or quantity for your uniform needs and consider browsing related dress-uniform items and military surplus accessories to complete a coordinated ceremonial kit.
