Product overview

This is a faithful reproduction of the German Mothers' Honor Cross (Mutterkreuz), intended for collectors, museums, historical displays, and military surplus shops. It is suitable for anyone who collects historical replicas or decorative insignia from the period.

Definition: a detailed reproduction medal in gold-colored metal with white and blue enamel, reproducing the original design and inscriptions. Keywords: military surplus, historical replica, tactical collector item.

Main features

Carefully crafted to reflect the original piece, this reproduction combines visible historic details with wearable dimensions for display or collection.

- Material: gold-colored metal with white and blue enamel.
- Inscription: bears the wording DER DEUTSCHEN MUTTEN (translated "to the German mothers").
- Reverse marking: engraved with the date of institution: 16 December 1938.
- Size: 34 mm width x 43 mm height — practical for display or wear.
- Historical meaning: the original award recognized mothers with large families; the gold class was for mothers with more than eight children.
- Collector-friendly: reproduction intended for display, education, or inclusion in a military surplus collection.

How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: use this reproduction as a display piece in a private collection, museum exhibit, or historical diorama. It is not intended as an endorsement of the historical regime it originated from.

In most cases, collectors place the medal in a presentation case, attach it to period uniforms for reenactment or study, or include it among other military surplus items. Handle with care to preserve enamel and finish.

Care and notes

Basic care keeps the enamel and metal finish intact and preserves the historical detail.

- Store in a dry, cool place away from direct sunlight and humidity.
- Clean gently with a soft, dry cloth; avoid abrasive cleaners or strong chemicals.
- Handle by the edges to reduce fingerprints on enamel and metal surfaces.
- Note: this is a historical reproduction intended for collectors and educational use; availability is limited.
- Warning: the item references a 1938 institution and related historical context; local display and sale regulations may apply.

FAQ

Q: What are the dimensions of the Mothers' Honor Cross reproduction?

A: The cross measures 34 mm in width and 43 mm in height. These dimensions make it suitable for display or attaching to a uniform or presentation mount.

Q: What material is the reproduction made from?

A: It is made from gold-colored metal with white and blue enamel. The finish is intended to match the look of the original medal.

Q: What is the inscription on the cross?

A: The piece bears the inscription DER DEUTSCHEN MUTTEN, translated as "to the German mothers," reflecting the original wording on the medal.

Q: When was the original Mothers' Honor Cross instituted?

A: The reverse of this reproduction is engraved with the date 16 December 1938, the historic date associated with the award's institution.

Q: Who originally received the gold class of this award?

A: Historically, the gold class was awarded to mothers who had more than eight children; this reproduction reflects that historical classification.

Q: Is this item suitable for reenactment or public exhibition?

A: Yes, it is suitable for reenactment, educational displays, and private collections. Be mindful of local laws and public sensitivities when exhibiting items tied to this historical period.

Tip: Choose the right variant for your collection and consider a protective case or mount to preserve the enamel and finish; also browse related historical replica and military surplus items to complete a themed display.
