Product overview

The Soggolo Generale di Corpo d'Armata is a formal braided shoulder cord intended for Generals of Corpo d'Armata serving in the Arma dei Carabinieri, Esercito and Guardia di Finanza. It is reserved for authorized military personnel and verified collectors who meet legal requirements.

Definition: a soggolo is a decorative braided cord worn on dress uniforms to indicate rank and service status.

Main features

Designed for dress and ceremonial uniforms, this soggolo combines traditional construction with durable materials for a professional appearance.

- Material: braided three-strand cord in silver-colored fabric.
- Rank detail: three galloncini (rank stripes) at temple height made from silver fabric ribbon with black edging.
- Durability: finished for long-term use on dress uniforms.
- Official use: intended for Generale di Corpo d'Armata in Arma dei Carabinieri, Esercito and Guardia di Finanza.
- Authenticity control: sale subject to identity and command verification to ensure authorized distribution.

How to use / When it’s useful

The soggolo is worn on dress uniform for formal occasions such as parades, ceremonies and official duties where rank identification is required. It attaches at temple height and complements other dress accoutrements.

Quick answer: It is for ceremonial and formal dress use by entitled officers. In most cases, you will wear it only during official events or when regulations require dress insignia for duty, police or military protocol.

Care and notes

Keep the soggolo in good condition with gentle handling and proper storage; follow the verification rules before purchase.

- Store flat or hung to avoid kinks in the braid.
- Clean gently with a soft cloth; avoid harsh chemicals or machine washing.
- Sale requires a copy of military ID or delivery to the command station of service; collectors must provide a prefectural license under art. 28 TULPS.
- Availability is limited and sales are restricted to verified personnel and authorized collectors.

FAQ

Q: Who can buy the Soggolo Generale di Corpo d'Armata?

A: Purchase is limited to personnel of Arma dei Carabinieri, Esercito and Guardia di Finanza after verification of military ID or command station. Collectors must present legal authorization.

Q: What materials is the soggolo made from?

A: It is a three-strand braided cord in silver-colored fabric with three silver ribbon galloncini edged in black. No additional materials are claimed.

Q: Can collectors buy this item?

A: Yes, verified collectors can buy it by providing a prefectural license in accordance with art. 28 TULPS. Proof will be checked before sale is approved.
