How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: use the sleeve to store a sabre at home, carry it to events, or keep it protected during transport and display. Slide the sabre in fully and tighten the drawstring to secure it.

In most cases, the 125 cm length accommodates standard sabres with or without a scabbard. It is especially useful for collectors, reenactors and people involved in historical martial arts who need an easy, lightweight protective solution.

Care and notes

Care instructions and practical notes to help preserve both sleeve and weapon.

- Hand wash in cold water with mild soap; do not use harsh chemicals.
- Air dry flat or hung; avoid high heat to preserve fabric and drawstring.
- Make sure the blade and scabbard are dry before storing to prevent corrosion.
- Remove dirt or grit from inside the sleeve before inserting the sabre to avoid scratches.

FAQ

Q: Will this sleeve fit any sabre?

A: It fits most standard sabres up to 125 cm in total length. Very short or unusually long blades may not be an exact fit.

Q: What material is the sleeve made from?

A: The sleeve is made from a durable, high-quality cloth (panno) chosen to protect metal finishes while resisting everyday wear.

Q: Is the drawstring closure secure enough for transport?

A: Yes. The drawstring (laccetto) provides a tight closure that helps prevent the sabre from slipping out during normal transport and handling.

Q: Can I machine wash the sleeve?

A: Hand washing in cold water with mild soap is recommended. Machine washing and heat drying can reduce fabric performance over time.

Q: Which colors are available?

A: The sleeve comes in two classic colors: green (traditional/military style) and black (discreet, formal look).

Q: Why choose a cloth sleeve instead of a hard case?

A: A cloth sleeve is lightweight, gentle on metal finishes and easy to carry. It is ideal for storage, short transport and events where a tactical or military surplus look is preferred.

Tip: Choose the color and ensure the 125 cm length fits your sabre; browse related storage and transport accessories to complete your setup and protect your piece for display or use.
