Definition: A thermoadhesive embroidered patch representing the Carabinieri Subacquei (divers), sized 8.6 cm. Suitable for tactical uniforms, military surplus packs, jackets and backpacks.

Main features

- Thermoadhesive backing: Easy iron-on application for fabrics.
- Durable materials: Made to keep shape and stitching over time.
- Compact size: 8.6 cm diameter — suitable for uniforms, jackets, rucksacks, and tactical vests.
- Suitable uses: Ideal as a police insignia, tactical patch, or military surplus collectible.

How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: Apply with a household iron following standard iron-on patch steps — press firmly and allow to cool for secure adhesion. The patch works well on cotton and other ironable textiles.

In most cases, apply to uniforms, outerwear, backpacks or display textiles; the thermoadhesive is intended for semi-permanent use and may not be suitable for every fabric type. If you plan to remove the patch later, expect possible fabric damage.

Care and notes

Follow basic care for iron-on embroidered patches to preserve appearance and adhesion.

- Apply with a hot iron and firm pressure; allow to cool before moving the item.
- Wash garments gently (gentle cycle or hand wash recommended) and avoid aggressive tumble drying to protect the bond.
- Removal may damage the underlying fabric; consider sewing the edges for extra hold instead of reapplying with heat.
- The patch is made with materials that provide water resistance, but limit exposure to prolonged moisture when possible.
