How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: unwind the bracelet to access cord when you need a short length for tying, repairs, improvised shelter, or gear attachment. In most cases, the bracelet provides several meters of usable cord when unraveled, depending on the bracelet size.

Use it on hikes, camping trips, fieldwork, or as part of tactical and police duty kits for small emergency fixes and everyday tasks. It is also a fashionable, functional accessory for young outdoor-style wearers.

Care and notes

Keep the bracelet clean and dry to maintain strength and appearance. Follow these simple care tips and safety notes:

- Hand wash gently with mild soap and water; air dry completely before storing.
- Avoid strong chemicals, solvents, or prolonged sun exposure to preserve color and fibers.
- Not certified for load-bearing, climbing, or life-support applications—use for general-purpose cordage only.
- Provide an accurate wrist measurement in centimeters for a proper fit.

FAQ

Q: How do I customize the bracelet length?

A: Tell us your wrist measurement in centimeters (use a tape measure). We will adjust the bracelet length to match that size for a comfortable fit.

Q: Is the bracelet waterproof?

A: The bracelet is made from water-resistant nylon and tolerates normal wet conditions, but avoid prolonged immersion and dry it after heavy exposure.

Q: Can I use this bracelet in an emergency?

A: Yes. The bracelet can be unraveled to provide usable cord for repairs, securing gear, or other short-term needs. It is not intended for life-saving or load-bearing uses.

Q: How much cord do I get when it is unraveled?

A: The usable cord length depends on the bracelet size and weave. Expect several meters of cord for most adult sizes; exact length varies by custom sizing.

Q: Is it suitable for all ages?

A: The design and sizing options make it appropriate for teens and adults. For children, ensure proper fit and supervise use if they will handle loose cord.
