Product overview

The Brigata Garibaldi plastic omerale (shoulder) shield is a molded insignia designed for the khaki service uniform of the Bersaglieri. It is aimed at uniformed personnel, collectors, re-enactors and anyone buying military surplus or tactical duty insignia.

Definition: a plastic shoulder shield featuring the Brigata Garibaldi emblem on a crimson background with a yellow border. The patch combines historical symbolism with a durable, wearer-ready construction.

Main features

Clear, durable insignia made to the proportions used on the Bersaglieri ordinary uniform.

- Distinctive design: crimson field with the cornetta of the Garibaldini volunteers and the guide's sabre.
- High visibility border: yellow edging for clear recognition on the sleeve.
- Durable material: made from sturdy plastic to retain shape and color over time.
- Uniform application: positioned on the arm of the ordinary khaki uniform for a neat presentation.
- Compact size: 4.5 cm width x 6 cm height, sized for standard uniform use.

How to use / When it's useful

Quick answer: apply the shield to the sleeve where the Bersaglieri omerale insignia is normally worn. In most cases, a uniform tailor or authorized personnel will place and secure the patch to keep its alignment and appearance.

This shield is useful when restoring or maintaining authentic military uniforms, for display in a collection, or for use with tactical and military surplus gear where accurate insignia are required. It serves as a faithful visual element rather than protective equipment.

Care and notes

Simple care keeps the shield looking correct on uniform and display.

- Clean with a soft damp cloth; avoid abrasive cleaners.
- Store flat and out of prolonged direct sunlight to limit color fading.
- Designed for standard application on the uniform sleeve; have a professional secure it if needed.
- Color and design are fixed: cremisi (crimson) background with yellow border only.
- Available in limited quantities; check stock before purchase.

FAQ

Q: What are the exact dimensions of the shield?

A: The shield measures 4.5 cm wide by 6 cm high. These dimensions match the proportions used on the Bersaglieri ordinary uniform.

Q: What material is the shield made from?

A: It is made from high-quality plastic designed to be durable and maintain its shape and color during normal wear and display.

Q: How is the shield applied to the uniform?

A: The shield is positioned on the arm of the khaki uniform. Placement and attachment are typically done by a uniform tailor or authorized personnel to ensure a neat, secure fit.

Q: What do the symbols on the shield represent?

A: The cornetta represents the Garibaldini volunteers, and the sabre (sciabola) signifies the guides; together they call to courage, freedom and the unit’s historical legacy.

Q: Are other color variants available?

A: No. The shield is only produced in the crimson background with a yellow border, the colour scheme associated with the Brigata Garibaldi.

Q: Is this shield suitable for collectors or tactical/duty use?

A: Yes. It is suitable for collectors, re-enactors and for use with military surplus or duty uniforms where an authentic-looking insignia is required. It is not a protective or operational device.
