550 Paracord Bracelet Tooth Dragon Red/Black

Product price:

€6.50 tax included

Product codes:

Reference: Art. 18.1472
EAN13: 0658606569195
UPC: 658606569195

Product features:

Product short description:

Discover the Paracord 550 Tooth Dragon Bracelet in Red and Black — a stylish, functional accessory for outdoor enthusiasts and anyone who prefers a distinctive tactical-inspired look.

- Material: Made from high-quality 550 paracord for reliable strength and wear resistance.
- Pattern: Red and black dragon-tooth weave provides a bold, distinctive accent to everyday gear.
- Use: Suitable for hiking, camping, EDC and casual wear as a practical, eye-catching accessory.
- Durability: Robust, versatile construction designed to stand out while remaining functional.

Product description:

Product overview

The Braccialetto Paracord 550 Tooth Dragon Red Black is a durable paracord bracelet designed for outdoor enthusiasts, tactical users, and everyday carry. It combines a red-and-black woven style with functional parachute nylon cord for camping, hiking, boating, and police or duty use.

Definition: a paracord bracelet that can be unraveled to provide strong nylon cord for emergency and utility tasks. This model uses parachute-quality nylon with five inner white high-strength strands.

Main features

Built for practical use and easy customization, this paracord bracelet balances style and function for survival, tactical, or everyday applications.

- Parachute nylon construction: made from parachute-grade nylon cord for durability.
- Five inner strands: contains 5 white high-strength nylon filaments inside the sheath.
- Red and black weave: alternating Tooth Dragon pattern that reaches to the buckle closures.
- Emergency cordage: can be unraveled to supply several metres of usable cord.
- Custom sizing: we tailor the bracelet length to your wrist measurement in cm.
- Versatile use: suitable for camping, boating, hunting, hiking, tactical and military surplus gear setups.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the bracelet as a wearable accessory and as a ready source of cord in emergencies: simply unweave the paracord to access the inner strands and main cord. Quick answer: it gives you portable cordage for repairs, shelter, or improvised uses.

In most cases, the bracelet is worn daily for style and utility, and carried on trips where light, reliable cord could be needed. Carry it with other survival or tactical kit for best results.

Care and notes

Basic care keeps the cord reliable and the bracelet looking good. Note that this is a utility item, not certified rescue equipment.

- Clean by hand with mild soap and water; rinse and air dry.
- Avoid prolonged exposure to high heat or open flame.
- Not certified for load-bearing rescue or life-support applications—use for general utility and emergency repairs only.
- Provide your wrist measurement in centimetres for a custom fit.

FAQ

Q: Is the bracelet water resistant?

A: Yes. Parachute nylon resists water and is suitable for wet conditions like boating or general outdoor use. Rinse and dry after prolonged exposure.

Q: How do I customize the length?

A: Send your wrist measurement in centimetres (use a tape measure). We will build the bracelet to fit that size for a comfortable, tailored fit.

Q: Is it suitable for everyday wear?

A: Yes. The red-and-black design is made to be both functional and wearable, so it works for daily carry as well as outdoor activities.

Q: How much cord do I get if I unravel it?

A: The exact amount depends on the bracelet length you order. Generally, a standard wrist-sized bracelet provides several metres of usable cord once unraveled.

Q: Can I use this for professional tactical or police duty?

A: The bracelet is a useful accessory for tactical, military surplus, or police carry as a source of spare cordage, but it should not replace dedicated duty equipment certified for specific tasks.

Q: Is this a good gift for outdoor enthusiasts?

A: Yes. It’s practical and compact, making it a popular gift for campers, hikers, hunters, and anyone who appreciates survival or tactical gear.

Tip: Choose the correct wrist size when ordering to ensure a comfortable fit, and consider browsing matching tactical and outdoor accessories to complete your kit.

Product attributes:

Product gallery:

