Product description:

Product overview

The Fregio Truppa Paracadutisti Alpini is an embroidered badge designed for alpine hats and collectors of military gear, suitable for members of alpine paratrooper units, veterans, and tactical/military surplus enthusiasts. It visually represents the Truppa Paracadutisti Alpini unit with a traditional emblem.

Definition: This is a stitched hat badge (fregio) showing an eagle over a parachute, embroidered on grey cloth for use on alpine hats and uniform displays.

Main features

Durable embroidery and a clear, symbolic design make this badge suitable for uniform use, display, or collection within military, tactical, and military surplus contexts.

- Distinctive design: Eagle in flight over a parachute with converging cords, a central dagger and two outstretched wings.
- High-quality stitching: Black thread embroidery edged with a gold-coloured thread on grey cloth.
- Suitable size: 10 cm height x 9.5 cm width — sized for standard alpine hats.
- Easy to apply: Designed for simple attachment to alpine hats and headgear.
- Symbolic value: Represents belonging to the Truppa Paracadutisti Alpini and their traditions.
- Limited availability: Produced in small quantities due to demand.

How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: Use this fregio to outfit an alpine hat, for uniform displays, or as part of a tactical or military surplus collection. In most cases, it serves as a visible symbol of unit identity or as a collector’s item.

This badge is intended for placement on the front of an alpine hat or similar headgear. It is useful for ceremonies, uniform upkeep, museum displays, or for anyone maintaining authentic alpine paratrooper gear.

Care and notes

Keep the badge in good condition by handling it gently and storing it flat or attached to dry headgear. Note the limited stock and check fit before final attachment.

- Avoid heavy machine washing while attached to fabric; remove or protect the hat during cleaning.
- Store flat or pinned to a soft backing to preserve the embroidery shape.
- Attach securely to avoid loss during use; professional or careful hand-sewing is recommended if needed.
- Limited quantities: availability may change quickly due to demand.
