Product overview

The Scudetto Plastica Brigata Tridentina is a collectible military patch for collectors, reenactors, and fans of Italian military history. It is a plastic badge mounted on khaki cloth that reproduces the historic heraldic shield of the city of Trento.

Definition: a hard-plastic insignia mounted on khaki cloth showing the Tridentina emblem, sized for display or integration into a collection. Suitable for military surplus, tactical patch collections, and history-focused displays.

Main features

Quality construction and faithful heraldic detail make this scudetto a durable display piece with clear historic references to the Brigata Alpina Tridentina.

- Material: durable plastic mounted on khaki cloth for an authentic look.
- Design: green background with the Trento shield — white escutcheon with a black eagle, red flame details on the chest and two gold trefoils on the wings, topped by the city crown.
- Size: 5.5 x 7 cm — compact and easy to display.
- Historical reference: recalls the Brigata Tridentina and its mottos "Salire e durare" and "Tridentina... avanti!" used at Nikolajewka under General Reverberi.
- Use cases: suitable for collectors, military surplus displays, tactical patch boards, and museum-style presentations.

How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: use the scudetto for display, adding to a collection, or mounting in a frame or shadowbox. It comes mounted on khaki cloth, ready to show or store.

In most cases, collectors and history enthusiasts keep it with other military surplus items, add it to a patch board, or place it in a protective display. It works well in small exhibits, uniform displays, or as a cataloged collector’s item.

Care and notes

Basic care keeps the scudetto in good condition and preserves the printed heraldic detail.

- Store in a dry place away from direct sunlight to prevent fading.
- Avoid exposure to high heat or moisture to protect the plastic and cloth backing.
- Do not use solvents or abrasive cleaners on the plastic surface.

FAQ

Q: What are the dimensions of the scudetto?

A: The scudetto measures 5.5 x 7 cm. It is compact and suited for display, framing, or inclusion in a larger patch collection.

Q: What material is the scudetto made of?

A: The badge is made of durable plastic mounted on khaki cloth, designed to keep its shape and printed detail over time.

Q: What does the heraldic emblem represent?

A: The emblem represents the city of Trento: a white shield with a black eagle, red flame-like markings on the chest, and two gold trefoils on the wings, crowned by the city crown.

Q: Is this item suitable for collectors?

A: Yes. The detailed heraldry and khaki mounting make it suitable for collectors of military surplus, tactical patches, and historical insignia.

Q: How should I store the scudetto?

A: Store flat in a dry, shaded place. Keep it protected from direct sunlight and high humidity to prevent color fading and fabric deterioration.

Q: Is this scudetto historically linked to a specific event or motto?

A: The scudetto references the Brigata Alpina Tridentina and recalls its mottos: initially "Salire e durare," later replaced in 1968 by "Tridentina... avanti!" associated with General Reverberi at Nikolajewka.

Tip: Choose the right display or mounting option for your collection (frame, patch board, or shadowbox) and browse related military surplus and tactical patches to build a coherent display without rushing your selection.
