Large Gold Metal Shoulder Boards Historical Uniform

Product price:

€269.00 tax included

Product codes:

Reference: Art. 952.147
EAN13: 0658606569720
UPC: 658606569720

Product features:

Product short description:

Golden metal epaulettes sized for large historical uniforms, designed for reenactors, formal ceremonies, and collectors seeking an authentic, refined shoulder detail.

- Material: Made from high-quality metal for a durable, authentic look.
- Use: Suitable for historical reenactments, formal events, museum displays and private collections.
- Finish: Durable gold-tone finish designed to retain its shine over time.
- Fit: Designed to attach easily and fit a wide range of historical uniforms and tunics.

Product description:

Product overview

The Spalline Metalliche Dorate Grande Uniforme Storica are historic large golden metal epaulettes made for collectors, military history enthusiasts, and period uniform restorers. They are authentic early 20th-century uniform fittings produced by Unione Militare Roma and suited for display, collection, or historical re-enactment.

Definition: These are large, gold-plated metal shoulder boards (epaulettes) with a 16 cm plate, a decorative shield and rank markings used on historical full dress uniforms. Keywords: military surplus, tactical surplus, duty gear, police historic uniform.

Main features

Well-preserved historic epaulettes with detailed workmanship and clear rank identification, suitable for collectors and museum-style displays.

- Material: Gold-plated metal plate, total length 16 cm.
- Upper stem (gambo): Nine slightly convex scales; stem thickness 0.5 mm, length 60 mm (88 mm at lower end where it joins the shield).
- Rank identification: Oval shield with two raised lines indicating the rank of Tenente (Lieutenant).
- Shield dimensions: Oval, slightly convex, maximum width 112 mm and radius 65 mm.
- Decorative fringe: Gold sinusoidal fringe (cartiglio brillantato) that falls along the arm for 8 cm externally.
- Additional detail: A 5 cm loop with a gold cord fixed by two small gold buttons cut in a diamond point on the first, narrower scale.
- Origin and condition: Early 1900s production by Unione Militare Roma; noted for excellent preservation.

How to use / When it’s useful

These epaulettes are primarily for display on historical uniforms, museum exhibits, or period re-enactments. They work well mounted on a restored jacket or displayed in a collection case as a documented piece of early 20th-century military attire.

Quick answer: Use them for collection, display, or historical costume rather than modern operational duty. In most cases, collectors attach them to a matching large uniform shoulder board or place them in a protective display to preserve condition.

Care and notes

Handle as an antique metal accessory: cleaning and storage protect both finish and structural details.

- Store dry and avoid prolonged exposure to moisture to protect plating.
- Clean gently with a soft, dry cloth; avoid abrasive cleaners that could remove plating.
- Not certified for modern operational use—intended as a historic uniform accessory.
- Limited quantity due to historical origin; inspect photos and ask for condition details if needed.

FAQ

Q: What is the overall length of the epaulettes?

A: The epaulettes have a total length of 16 cm for the gold-plated plate.

Q: What material are the spalline made from?

A: They are made from a gold-plated metal plate, consistent with early 20th-century uniform fittings.

Q: What is the thickness and length of the stem (gambo)?

A: The stem thickness is 0.5 mm; its length is 60 mm, increasing to 88 mm at the lower end where it joins the shield.

Q: How wide is the oval shield and what is its shape?

A: The shield is oval and slightly convex, with a maximum width of 112 mm and a radius of 65 mm.

Q: What do the raised lines on the shield indicate?

A: Two raised lines on the shield identify the rank of Tenente (Lieutenant) in the original historic context.

Q: Where and when were these epaulettes produced?

A: They were produced in the early 1900s by Unione Militare Roma and are noted for their excellent state of preservation.

Tip: Choose the correct variant or size for your uniform or display, and check related military surplus and historic uniform accessories to complete a coordinated collection.

Product attributes:

Product gallery:

