Product overview

The Olive Drab 120-Liter Duffel Backpack is a large-capacity tactical bag for outdoors, military surplus users, police and duty personnel, and anyone who needs rugged, organized storage. It combines a duffel's capacity with backpack carry options for mission-style packing.

Definition: a 120-liter olive drab duffel backpack made from 1000 Denier nylon with a waterproof, cut-resistant base for heavy-duty use.

Main features

Built for durability and practical organization, this tactical bag balances load capacity with carrying comfort and quick access pockets.

- Material: 1000 Denier nylon for long-lasting wear and abrasion resistance.
- Waterproof, cut-resistant base: protects gear from moisture and ground abrasion.
- Carry options: padded anatomical shoulder straps (height-adjustable) plus reinforced hand carry handles.
- Secure external straps: integrated elastic straps to hold rifles, sleeping bags, or helmets.
- External pockets: five zippered pockets (three front, two side) for fast access to essentials.
- Main compartment: U-shaped double zipper opening with internal mesh pockets for organized packing.
- Capacity and size: 120 liters; dimensions full load 95 x 35 x 45 cm.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use this bag for extended missions, base-to-field transport, expedition packing, or as a large travel duffel. It fits tactical, military surplus, police duty, and camping scenarios where durable, organized storage is needed.

Quick answer: Carry it as a backpack for hands-free movement or use the hand straps for short hauls. In most cases, pack heavy items low and centered, and use the external elastics to secure bulky items like bedrolls or helmets.

Care and notes

Simple care keeps the bag performing: wipe clean, dry fully before storage, and avoid prolonged exposure to sharp edges or chemicals.

- Clean with a damp cloth and mild soap; air dry completely before storing.
- Do not machine wash or tumble dry to protect zippers and padding.
- Adjust shoulder straps and pack evenly to avoid discomfort when carrying heavy loads.
- Check zippers and seams periodically for wear; repair as needed to maintain waterproofing.

FAQ

Q: Is the duffel backpack waterproof?

A: The base is waterproof and cut-resistant to protect contents from ground moisture. The bag body is water-resistant but not fully submersible.

Q: What is the capacity in liters and the packed dimensions?

A: Capacity is 120 liters. Packed dimensions at full load are 95 x 35 x 45 cm.

Q: How many external pockets does it have?

A: There are five external zippered pockets: three front pockets and two side pockets for easy access items.

Q: Are the shoulder straps adjustable and comfortable for long carries?

A: Yes. The shoulder straps are anatomically padded and height-adjustable to improve comfort during long carries.

Q: Can I secure large items like rifles or a sleeping bag to the outside?

A: Yes. Integrated elastic straps allow you to secure rifles, sleeping bags, helmets, or similar bulky gear to the exterior of the bag.

Q: Is this bag suitable for everyday use or travel?

A: It is versatile enough for daily heavy-duty use, police duty, and travel, though its large 120-liter size may be oversized for light daily commuting.

Tip: Choose the right carry option for your needs—backpack straps for hands-free movement or the hand handles for short transfers—and consider browsing related tactical and military surplus gear to complete your kit.
