Product overview

The Divisa Accademia Aeronautica Militare is the formal academy uniform reserved for personnel of the Aeronautica Militare and for qualified collectors with the required license. It is a tailored two-piece uniform in high-quality gabardine, made to the official look and standards.

Definition: a single-breasted academy uniform (jacket and trousers) produced for duty, ceremonial and representative use by the Aeronautica Militare. Suitable keyword variations: tactical uniform, military surplus academy garment, duty uniform.

Main features

Carefully tailored components and official details characterize this uniform.

- Jacket: single-breasted closure with one row of four golden Aeronautica Militare buttons arranged vertically.
- Jacket pockets: four chest pockets with a central vertical piping (cannellino) closed by Aeronautica Militare buttons.
- Sleeve detail: six golden buttons aligned horizontally (one button missing) plus one vertical button forming an "L" on the outer sleeves—an identifying feature.
- Trousers: same gabardine fabric, no cuff for a clean professional hem.
- Trousers pockets: two internal side pockets cut along the seam and one rear right pocket for added function.
- Authenticity: produced to match official styling and certified on request.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use this uniform for academy duties, formal ceremonies, parades and official representation where the Aeronautica Militare dress code applies. It is intended for serving Air Force personnel and licensed collectors only.

Quick answer: purchase is restricted—Air Force staff must provide proof of service; collectors must provide the prefectoral license under art. 28 TULPS. In most cases, you will select a size, submit measurements and wait for bespoke tailoring to complete before delivery.
