Product overview

The Soggolo Maggiore Esercito Aeronautica GdF Capitano di Corvetta is a ceremonial shoulder cord intended for serving members of the Italian armed forces and police corps. It is specifically produced for ranks such as Maggiore and Capitano di Corvetta and is used with dress uniforms for formal and duty occasions.

Definition: a soggolo is a braided gold cord (canutiglia) worn at the temples to indicate rank and unit affiliation.

Main features

Made to reflect the traditional appearance for the specified ranks, this soggolo pairs durable materials with a clear rank identifier suitable for military, tactical, and duty uniforms.

- High-quality materials: gold canutiglia cord, twisted at both ends for a neat finish.
- Rank identification: gold galloncini edged in black on each side at temple height identify the rank of Maggiore.
- Traditional design: styled to match the classic ceremonial appearance for the indicated corps.
- Reserved availability: sale limited to serving personnel or authorised collectors meeting document requirements.
- Durable construction: suitable for repeated use with dress and parade uniforms.

How to use / When it’s useful

Wear the soggolo with formal dress uniforms during parades, official ceremonies, inspections, and other duty events where rank insignia are required. It is positioned at the temples and secured according to the uniform regulations of the relevant corps.

Quick answer: use it for official dress and ceremonial duties to show rank clearly. In most cases, the item is supplied only after verification of service or collector authorization, so allow time for document checks before planned events.

Care and notes

Keep the soggolo clean and stored flat or gently coiled to avoid deforming the braid; avoid harsh chemicals and prolonged moisture to preserve the gold canutiglia.

- Store in a dry place away from direct sunlight.
- Handle gently to prevent fraying of the canutiglia.
- Sale restricted: must provide service ID or barracks delivery address during site registration.
- Collectors must supply a prefectural licence under art. 28 TULPS for purchase.

FAQ

Q: Who can purchase this soggolo?

A: Primarily serving members of the Italian armed forces and police corps. Purchases require submission of service ID or a barracks delivery address during registration.

Q: What materials are used in the soggolo?

A: The cord is made from gold canutiglia with a two-ended twisted finish and gold galloncini edged in black at the temple level.

Q: Can collectors buy this item?

A: Yes, collectors may purchase only if they provide a valid prefectural licence as required by art. 28 TULPS for reserved products.

Q: How do I prove my membership to buy this product?

A: Provide a copy of your service ID card or list the barracks address as the delivery location when registering on the site; the address must match your place of service.

Q: How long does delivery take?

A: Delivery times depend on location and document verification. Typical dispatch occurs within 7–10 working days after verification is completed.

Q: Is this the correct pattern for Maggiore and Capitano di Corvetta ranks?

A: The design includes the gold galloncini edged in black that identify the Maggiore rank and follows the traditional appearance used by the indicated corps.

Tip: Choose the correct variant and ensure your service ID or collector licence is ready before ordering; check related military surplus and duty uniform items to complete your ceremonial kit.
