Product overview

This product is a pair of plastic sleeve insignia on a blue background made for the Infermiere Volontarie della Croce Rossa Italiana (CRI). It is intended for volunteer nurses and CRI personnel who need official identification as part of their uniform.

Definition: A pair of blue plastic sleeve tubolari with a gold five-pointed star, reserved for CRI volunteer nurses. These insignia identify duty staff and fit standard uniform use for medical volunteer gear and duty identification.

Main features

Clear, durable insignia designed for everyday uniform use by CRI volunteer nurses.

- Pair of tubolari: sold as a set for both sleeves.
- Blue background: specific color for Infermiere Volontarie CRI identification.
- Gold five-pointed star: elegant symbol placed at the lower end of each tubolare.
- High-quality plastic: made for durability and frequent wear.
- Reserved item: sale limited to verified CRI personnel.
- Suitable for duty uniforms: practical accessory for volunteer nurse gear and uniform identification.

How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: Wear these tubolari on the uniform sleeves to show official membership in the Infermiere Volontarie CRI and for clear on?site identification. They work as uniform insignia for shifts, public events, or community response activities.

In most cases, you must provide proof of CRI affiliation before shipment. During purchase, upload a copy of your Croce Rossa ID or select your CRI station as the delivery address so the order can be verified and released to the authorized recipient.

Care and notes

Basic care keeps the tubolari presentable and functional; follow the verification rules to complete your order.

- Store flat or on the sleeve to avoid bending; clean with a mild soap and soft cloth.
- Sale reserved to Infermiere Volontarie CRI — you will be asked for Croce Rossa ID during checkout.
- If you choose delivery to a CRI station, allow time for internal verification before final shipment.

FAQ

Q: Who is allowed to buy these tubolari?

A: Only members of the Infermiere Volontarie della Croce Rossa Italiana (CRI) are eligible to purchase this product. The sale is restricted and verified.

Q: What documents are required to complete the purchase?

A: You must provide a copy of your Croce Rossa ID card showing membership in the Infermiere Volontarie CRI. This is required for verification before shipping.

Q: How can I send the required documents?

A: Upload the ID copy during the online checkout process or select your CRI station as the delivery address so staff can verify membership before release.

Q: What are the main visible features of the tubolari?

A: The tubolari are blue plastic sleeve insignia with a gold five-pointed star at the lower end. They are sold as a pair for both sleeves.

Q: Why is availability limited?

A: Availability is limited to ensure that only legitimate CRI volunteer nurses receive the insignia. This control protects the integrity of the uniform and the corps.

Q: Can these tubolari be used for other organizations or civilian purposes?

A: No. These items are intended for Infermiere Volontarie CRI personnel only and require membership verification; they are not offered for general civilian sale.
