Product overview

The Sacco a Pelo Mummia -5° is a mummy-style sleeping bag designed for campers, hikers, and professionals who need reliable warmth in cold conditions. Definition: a compact, insulated sleeping bag rated for comfort down to -5°C, suitable for camping, tactical and outdoor duty use.

Built for cold-weather use with a narrow, heat-efficient shape, this bag balances warmth, packability and lightweight carry for military surplus, tactical or police gear kits.

Main features

Key specifications that matter for cold-weather camping and tactical field use:

- Comfort rating: comfort zone down to -5°C for cold-night protection.
- Insulation: hollow-fiber lining 350 g/m² with polyester fill for thermal insulation.
- Shell and lining: black polyester interior and exterior for durability and low visibility.
- Dimensions: open size 230 x 80 cm; packed size 45 x 24 cm in the included nylon mini ripstop stuff sack.
- Weight: 2.2 kg — light enough for backpacking and field duty where pack weight matters.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the bag inside a tent, bivy sack, or shelter to maximize warmth. Its mummy shape reduces internal air volume to keep heat close to the body, making it suitable for cold-season trips and overnight duty shifts.

Quick answer: this sleeping bag is suitable for cold-weather camping down to -5°C. In most cases, pair it with an insulated sleeping pad for best thermal performance and more comfort on hard ground.

Care and notes

Simple care and practical notes to keep the bag performing well over time:

- Follow the printed care label for washing and drying instructions.
- Store loosely in a dry place; avoid long-term compression in the stuff sack.
- Avoid open flames and hot surfaces near the bag to prevent damage.

FAQ

Q: What is the comfort temperature of this sleeping bag?

A: The comfort zone is rated to -5°C, providing warmth for cold-weather conditions when used appropriately.

Q: What are the packed and open dimensions?

A: Open dimensions are 230 x 80 cm. Packed in the included nylon mini ripstop sack, the size is 45 x 24 cm.

Q: How much does the Sacco a Pelo Mummia -5° weigh?

A: The sleeping bag weighs 2.2 kg, a balance between insulation and portability for backpacking or duty packs.
