Product overview

The Rosetta Seta Commendatore Merito Melitense Civile is a silk rosette made for the Commander grade of the Order Merito Melitense (civil division). It is for recipients, uniform wearers, collectors of military surplus items, and anyone needing a formal insignia for ceremonies or official duty.

Definition: a small ceremonial rosette in white and red silk with an enamelled cross and a gold-tone crown, size 1.1 cm. It serves as a visible sign of merit and membership in the order.

Main features

Carefully made with traditional details and a rear clamp for secure attachment.

- Material: high-quality silk in white and red.
- Decorative detail: white enamelled cross with the Maltese cross at the center on a red field, topped by a gold-tone royal crown.
- Size: 1.1 cm diameter — discreet and formal.
- Attachment: rear clamp (morsetto) for easy application and removal.
- Use cases: suitable for uniforms, ceremonies, collectors of military surplus, or police and duty dress.
- Availability: produced in limited quantities.

How to use / When it's useful

Quick answer: pin the rosette to the left lapel or uniform sash using the rear clamp for a secure fit. In most cases, it is worn during formal events, official ceremonies, and award presentations.

Use it on jackets, tunics, or presentation boxes to show recognition or membership. For collectors, it is a small display piece that pairs well with other medals and insignia from military surplus or ceremonial uniform collections.

Care and notes

Keep the rosette clean and handle it gently to preserve the silk and enamel finish. Note limited stock and the need for careful storage.

- Store flat or in a small box to avoid crushing the silk.
- Clean gently with a soft, dry cloth; avoid solvents or abrasive cleaners.
- Handle enamel and crown details with care to prevent scratches.
- Limited availability — purchase while stock remains.

FAQ

Q: What materials are used in this rosette?

A: The rosette is made of high-quality silk with a white enamelled cross and a gold-tone royal crown detail. The rear clamp is metal for secure attachment.

Q: What is the exact size of the rosette?

A: The rosette measures 1.1 cm in diameter, designed to be discreet yet visible on formal dress or uniforms.

Q: How do I attach the rosette?

A: It has a rear clamp (morsetto) that clips onto the fabric. Fasten it carefully to a lapel or sash to avoid pulling the material.

Q: What colors and symbols are on the rosette?

A: The rosette is white and red, featuring a white enamelled cross with the Maltese cross at the center on a red field, topped by a gold-tone crown.

Q: Is this rosette suitable for police or duty uniforms?

A: Yes. It is intended for formal and ceremonial wear and can be used on police or duty dress where such insignia are appropriate.

Q: Is the rosette widely available?

A: No. Production is limited, so availability can be restricted. We recommend ordering soon if you need one for a specific event.

Tip: Choose the correct variant or size for your uniform and consider browsing related ceremonial insignia and military surplus pieces to complete a coordinated display or dress set.
