Product overview

The Croce Commemorativa di Benemerenza di Pubbliche Calamità is a commemorative Red Cross medal that honors people and organizations who served during public disasters and emergencies. It is suitable for collectors, military and emergency-service enthusiasts, historical displays, and anyone who wishes to recognize community service.

Definition: this is a commemorative medal tied to the Italian Red Cross, symbolizing service and solidarity during natural disasters and public crises.

Main features

Well-crafted and historically meaningful, the medal is offered in two main versions and uses traditional symbols to convey its purpose.

- Two formats: standard metal version (37 mm diameter) and reduced gala version in silver 975/1000.
- Reverse: red enameled cross with olive and laurel fronds as symbols of peace and recognition.
- Inscription on the obverse: "INTER ARMA CARITAS" reflecting humanitarian service during crises.
- Ribbon with distinctive colors: orange and blue for courage and commitment; green, white and red recalling Italian identity.
- Suitable for display, collection, and formal wear on ceremonial occasions.
- Offered with quality checks and customer support to assist buyers.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the medal as a collectible item, a display piece for historical or military surplus collections, or as a formal decoration for commemorative events. It fits well in collections focused on military, tactical, or duty-related memorabilia.

Quick answer: wear the gala (silver) version for formal occasions and keep the standard metal version for display or everyday collection. In most cases, collectors choose the size and finish that match their existing medals or display preferences.

Care and notes

Keep the medal protected from moisture and strong chemicals to preserve enamel and metal finishes. Handle with care, especially the silver gala version.

- Store in a dry, padded case or display frame to prevent scratches.
- Clean gently with a soft cloth; avoid abrasive cleaners on enamel and silver.
- Do not attempt modifications or personalization — customization is not offered for this decoration.
