Product overview

The Berretto Norvegese Alpina Waterproof Windstopper is a military-grade cap designed for the Truppe Alpine of the Esercito Italiano and anyone needing reliable head protection in wind, rain and cold. It suits outdoor users, tactical operators, military surplus shoppers, police and duty personnel who want a compact, weather-resistant cap.

Definition: a windproof, waterproof polyamide cap with an internal windstopper membrane and micropile lining for warmth and breathability.

Main features

Built for function and comfort, the cap combines weather protection with thermal performance and practical details.

- Waterproof membrane: internal windstopper layer prevents water intrusion.
- Water?repellent polyamide fabric: breathable surface helps reduce sweat build-up.
- Thermal regulation: polyester/nylon blend provides insulating properties in cold conditions.
- Micropile lining: soft inner layer for added warmth and comfort.
- Internal alluda sweatband and front mesh: improve fit and airflow.
- Side ventilation: small ventilation holes on both sides for breathability during activity.
- Available sizes: offered in multiple sizes to fit a wide range of head shapes.

How to use / When it’s useful

The cap is suitable for hiking, camping, hunting and other outdoor activities, as well as for sports and everyday city wear. It also works well for tactical and duty use where a low-profile, weather-resistant head covering is needed.

Quick answer: wear it whenever you need wind and rain protection with light insulation. In most cases, layering it under a hood or helmet adds extra protection in very cold or wet conditions.

Care and notes

Easy to maintain if cleaned gently; follow low-temperature washing to preserve the membrane and lining.

- Hand wash or machine wash on a gentle cycle at low temperature.
- Avoid high-heat drying; air dry to protect the membrane and micropile.
- Choose the correct size so the cap is comfortable and not overly tight.
- If conditions are extreme, use with additional outer layers for full protection.

FAQ

Q: What sizes are available?

A: The cap is offered in multiple sizes to fit different head circumferences. Check the size guide before purchase to ensure a comfortable fit.

Q: Is the cap fully waterproof?

A: Yes, the internal windstopper membrane provides waterproof protection for normal wet conditions. As with most fabric items, long immersion is not recommended.

Q: Is it breathable enough for active use?

A: The water?repellent polyamide fabric and side ventilation holes promote breathability and help reduce sweat during activity.

Q: What is the inner lining made of?

A: The cap features a micropile lining for added warmth and comfort, plus an internal alluda sweatband and front mesh for fit and airflow.

Q: Can this be used in extreme cold or severe weather?

A: The cap offers wind, rain and cold protection suitable for harsh conditions, but for extreme environments combine it with insulated layers or a hood as needed.

Q: Is this the issue model for the Truppe Alpine?

A: Yes, this is the model produced for ordinance use by Alpine personnel of the Esercito Italiano and is made to meet their operational needs.

Tip: Select the correct size variant for a comfortable fit and consider browsing related tactical and military surplus headwear to find matching items for your duty or outdoor needs.
