How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: wear it on the ordinary uniform or include it in authorized equipment supplies for operational units. In most cases, the badge is used to show assignment to naval aviation units and to complete the uniform presentation.

Use the badge for duty display, technical supply lists, or authenticated collections. Sales are restricted: personnel must be identified and collectors must provide the required prefectural license when applicable. Delivery can be arranged to a military barracks when needed.

Care and notes

Basic care extends service life and preserves appearance; follow these simple points.

- Rinse salt and dry thoroughly after exposure to sea air—marine environments accelerate corrosion.
- Secure both pin clutches before washing or heavy activity to avoid loss.
- Avoid abrasive cleaners that can dull the silver finish or damage enamel.
- Collectors: retain and provide the required licensing documents (licenza prefettizia ex art. 28 TULPS) for purchase approval.

FAQ

Q: What is the size of the badge?

A: The badge measures 2.7 cm in diameter, compact for uniform placement and clear at short distance.

Q: What type of fastening does it use?

A: It uses two rear pins with clutches for greater stability and reduced rotation on the fabric.

Q: Is this badge available to the general public?

A: No. Sales are reserved for identified military personnel; authorized collectors must submit the required prefectural license under art. 28 TULPS.

Q: How do I submit proof of service or license?

A: After creating an account, upload a copy of your service ID or attestation, or, for collectors, the prefectoral license as required for verification.

Q: Can the badge be delivered to my barracks?

A: Yes. You may indicate the barracks as the delivery address when completing the purchase and verification process.

Q: What is the practical difference between silver and bronze finishes?

A: Silver is brighter and emphasizes detail definition; bronze is more subdued and less reflective, often chosen for a discreet appearance.

Tip: Choose the finish that matches your uniform protocol—silver for higher visual definition, bronze for a low-profile look—and check related naval insignia and beret badges to complete a consistent set for duty, tactical or collection purposes.
