How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: Wear this cap as everyday headwear, at aviation events, or as part of a tactical or military-surplus inspired outfit. It adds a clear aviation identity without being functional combat gear.

In most cases, the cap works well for casual outdoor use, travel, and collectors who want a recognisable Apache motif. Note it is a fashion accessory and not protective equipment for duty or operations.

Care and notes

Simple care keeps the cap and its embroidery in good condition. Follow these basic steps to preserve fabric and 3D stitching.

- Hand wash cold with mild detergent to protect the embroidery.
- Avoid bleach and harsh chemicals that can weaken threads or fade fabric.
- Reshape and air dry; do not tumble dry to prevent shrinking or distortion.
- Avoid ironing directly over the 3D embroidery; iron inside out if needed on low heat.

FAQ

Q: Is the cap truly one size fits all?

A: Yes, the cap has a rear adjustment strap designed to fit most adult head sizes. It is described as one size with an adjustable closure.

Q: Will the 3D embroidery come loose or fade quickly?

A: The 3D embroidery uses quality thread designed for durability, but proper care (hand washing and gentle handling) will extend its life and keep colors from fading.

Q: Can I wash the cap in a washing machine?

A: Hand washing is recommended to preserve the embroidery and fabric. Machine washing may increase wear on raised stitching and is not advised.

Q: Is the cap available in other colors?

A: At the moment this cap is available only in the color shown in the product images. Check the product page for any future color updates.

Q: Is this an official Royal Netherlands Air Force issue?

A: The cap carries an embroidered "Royal Netherlands Air Force" label as part of its design, but it is sold as a retail accessory and not presented as official issued military equipment.
