Product overview

The Parka Vegetato Impermeabile Pile Interno 2 Cappucci is a military-style, waterproof parka designed for outdoor, tactical and duty use — suitable for hikers, police, military surplus shoppers and anyone needing reliable weather protection. It combines a waterproof, breathable membrane with a removable fleece liner and two-hood system for flexible cold- and wet-weather wear.

Definition: a waterproof, windproof and breathable tactical parka with a removable polyester fleece liner and dual hoods for adaptable protection in changing conditions.

Main features

Built for performance and practical use, this parka balances protection, comfort and military-inspired details.

- Advanta® membrane: waterproof, breathable and windproof barrier against the elements.
- Double hood system: one hood stows in the collar; the second is detachable and adjustable with zipper and Velcro.
- Functional pockets: Velcro-closure pockets on both sleeves for quick access and utility.
- YKK double-slider zipper: secure, fast closure; front tab with press-button accepts a tubular rank insert for an authentic military look.
- Removable fleece liner: 100% polyester OD liner for extra warmth on cold days.
- Technical interior: micro-perforated lining for added comfort and breathability; Vegetato-pattern Velcro for camouflage integration.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use this parka for cold, wet or windy conditions where layered protection is needed. With the fleece liner attached it works well in cold weather; remove the liner for milder, wet-weather protection while retaining waterproof and windproof performance.

Quick answer: wear it with the liner for cold days and remove the liner for transitional seasons. In most cases, the adjustable hood and breathable membrane make it suitable for tactical use, duty, urban commuting and outdoor activities like hiking.

Care and notes

Maintain the parka by following the product care label and treating the membrane and fixtures carefully to preserve performance.

- Follow the washing instructions on the garment label to protect the membrane and liner.
- Close zippers and Velcro before washing; remove the fleece liner if the label recommends washing shell and liner separately.
- Store dry and ventilated to avoid mildew and protect fabric coatings.
- Avoid solvents or harsh chemicals that could damage the Advanta® membrane or water-repellent treatment.

FAQ

Q: Is the parka suitable for all seasons?

A: It can be used year-round. With the removable fleece liner it covers cold conditions; without the liner it serves well for rainy or windy, milder seasons.

Q: How should I clean the parka?

A: Follow the care label. Close zippers and Velcro before washing, and wash shell and liner separately if advised by the label to preserve the membrane and fleece.

Q: Are there multiple sizes available?

A: Yes, this parka is available in several sizes. Check the store’s size guide to choose the best fit for layering and tactical use.

Q: Is the hood adjustable and removable?

A: Yes. One hood stows inside the collar; the second hood is detachable and adjustable by zipper and Velcro for flexible coverage.

Q: Is this parka suitable for sports or active outdoor use?

A: Yes. Its breathable Advanta® membrane and adjustable features make it appropriate for active outdoor use, tactical missions, duty or everyday urban wear.

Q: Does the design follow military specifications?

A: The parka’s design and details reflect the technical features associated with the Esercito Italiano's mod. 2012 specification, aiming for durable, functional performance without claiming formal certification.

Tip: Choose the correct size for layering (consult the size guide) and consider the Vegetato color if you want a military surplus, tactical or duty-style look; browse related tactical jackets and liners to complete your setup.
