Product overview

The Distintivo Omerale Soccorritore Militare CRI is an embroidered shoulder badge for non-degree medical staff of the Corpo della Croce Rossa Italiana, specifically for those serving as Aiutante di Sanità (A.Sa) or Soccorritore Militare. It is intended for official uniform identification and represents service and membership in the Corps.

Definition: a sewn embroidered shoulder badge (omerale) issued to qualified CRI medical personnel for wear on the uniform. This badge is reserved for authorized CRI staff and its sale requires identity or service verification.

Main features

Clear design and durable construction make this badge suitable for duty wear, tactical and military surplus collectors, and official use by medical support staff.

- Distinctive design: white shield with red border, a tricolour crescent embroidered with the word "ITALIA" in black thread, and a red cross embroidered slightly below center on a white field.
- High-quality materials: made to last and retain appearance during regular duty use.
- Reserved issue: available only to Corpo della Croce Rossa Italiana personnel in the specified roles.
- Easy application: designed for straightforward mounting on the shoulder area of the uniform, ensuring a professional look.
- Official recognition: worn to identify non-degree medical staff on duty and during official activities.
- Limited availability: distribution is controlled and subject to verification of eligibility.

How to use / When it’s useful

Apply the badge to the shoulder (omerale) area of the uniform according to your unit’s dress rules; it serves as official identification during duty, training, and operations. Quick answer: wear it on the uniform shoulder to show official CRI medical role.

In most cases, the badge is used whenever the wearer is performing assigned medical duties or representing the Corpo della Croce Rossa Italiana. It is suitable for operational, training, and ceremonial contexts where identification of medical staff is required.

Care and notes

Basic care preserves appearance and serviceability; follow your unit’s uniform and laundering rules. Note the sale and delivery conditions below.

- Avoid harsh chemicals or abrasive treatment that could damage embroidery.
- Store flat or with light padding to avoid folding the embroidered surface.
- Sale reserved to authorized CRI personnel; proof of identity or service required.
- When registering, you may indicate delivery to your military command headquarters; verification is completed before purchase is allowed.

FAQ

Q: Who can buy the Distintivo Omerale Soccorritore Militare CRI?

A: Only non-degree medical staff of the Corpo della Croce Rossa Italiana holding the role of Aiutante di Sanità (A.Sa) or Soccorritore Militare can purchase this badge.

Q: What documentation is required to purchase?

A: You must provide a copy of your ID card or an official service attestation. Alternatively, you can register the military command headquarters as the delivery address for verification.

Q: How is the badge attached to the uniform?

A: The badge is designed for easy application to the uniform shoulder area; follow your unit’s dress regulations for exact placement and attachment method.

Q: Is the badge durable for regular duty use?

A: Yes. It is made from durable embroidered materials intended to retain appearance during normal use, though proper care and handling prolong its condition.

Q: Can I order multiple badges?

A: Purchase limits may apply based on Corpo della Croce Rossa Italiana policies and current stock; availability can be restricted and will be verified at order time.

Q: What happens after I submit my documents?

A: Submitted documentation or delivery details will be verified. Once eligibility is confirmed, any purchase restrictions will be lifted and the order can proceed.

Tip: Choose the correct variant and confirm the delivery address during registration to speed verification. Browse related uniform items and duty accessories to complete your kit, keeping compliance with your unit’s regulations in mind.
