Quick answer: wear these travette on the shoulder boards of dress uniforms for ceremonies, parades, and official functions. They are primarily for formal and dress duty rather than everyday field use.

In most cases, they are fitted into standard shoulder badge carriers or placed on uniform straps for a neat, stable appearance. Use them when you need formal rank display for ceremonies, inspections, or photographic presentation.

Minimal, careful maintenance will preserve the embroidery and metal thread. Handle by the edges and store flat to avoid deformation.
