Product overview

The Medaglia di Benemerenza 2^ Classe Croce Rossa Italiana is a formal merit medal awarded to individuals who have shown notable dedication to the ideals and duties of the Italian Red Cross. It is intended for recipients, organizations, and collectors who value official service recognition and commemorative insignia.

Definition: a 2nd-class medal of merit issued in a gold-tone finish, honoring consistent, efficient service and commitment to the Italian Red Cross.

Main features

Well suited for collectors of military surplus, tactical memorabilia, and duty or police insignia, this medal combines symbolic design with clear manufacturing details.

- Material: gold-tone metal for an elegant appearance.
- Size: 28 mm diameter with bracket attachment.
- Obverse design: Greek cross with a female figure holding a lit lamp on the left; motto “OMNIA VINCIT CARITAS” in Roman-style letters on the right.
- Reverse design: “CROCE ROSSA ITALIANA” in Roman characters, a small raised cross, two laurel branches, and the grade marking “II classe” in relief.
- Ribbon: white ribbon 37 mm wide with a central red band 10 mm wide, matching Red Cross colors.

How to use / When it’s useful

This medal is suitable for display, presentation, or as part of a historical or service-award collection. Quick answer: use it for formal recognition, museum display, or as a collectible for those interested in duty and service insignia.

In most cases, recipients wear or display the medal according to the awarding organization’s guidelines; collectors typically keep it mounted or stored flat to protect the ribbon and finish.

Care and notes

Keep the medal’s appearance and ribbon condition by following a few simple care steps.

- Store in a dry, padded container to avoid scratches and ribbon creasing.
- Clean gently with a soft cloth; avoid abrasive cleaners that could damage the finish.
- Handle the ribbon carefully to preserve its color and stitching.
- Limited availability: demand may be high, so consider ordering promptly if needed.
