- Protective interior designed to reduce scratches and minor impacts.
- Quality materials that offer a refined, professional appearance.
- Versatile use for collectors, military personnel, tactical users and police officers.

How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: use the case to store medals securely at home, during transport, or when preparing for ceremonies. Place each item in its dedicated slot to avoid contact and scratching.

In most cases, the case is useful for travel to events, for safe display between uses, and for keeping a small medal collection organized. Its compact size fits into a kit bag, locker, or shelf without taking much space.

Care and notes

Basic care will keep the case and your medals in good condition.

- Wipe the exterior with a soft, dry cloth; avoid abrasive cleaners.
- Keep the case dry and avoid prolonged exposure to moisture.
- Store medals in their compartments without forcing oversized items.
- Avoid placing heavy objects on top to prevent deformation.

FAQ

Q: What are the case dimensions?

A: The case measures 11 cm in width, 3.9 cm in height and 15 cm in depth. These compact dimensions make it easy to carry or store.

Q: How many compartments does the case have?

A: It has three compartments: one for a large medal, one for a gala medal and one for a lapel-style badge.

Q: What material is the case made of?

A: The case is made from quality materials that provide a refined look and reliable durability. The interior is designed to protect items from scratches.

Q: Is the case suitable for travel?

A: Yes. Its compact size and sturdy construction make it suitable for transport in a bag or kit. For long trips, keep it in a stable, dry area of your luggage.

Q: Can I use the case for other medals or badges?

A: Yes. The case is versatile and can hold various medal types and small badges, provided they fit comfortably within the compartments.

Q: How do I clean and maintain the case?
