Product overview

The Lite Jacket Reversible Vegetato Olive Green is a lightweight, packable insulated jacket for outdoor enthusiasts, tactical operators, and military surplus shoppers who need a versatile, low-bulk layer. It is designed for hiking, patrol, travel, and everyday use where quick adaptability matters.

Definition: A 2-in-1 reversible jacket with vegetation camo on one side and olive green on the other, compressible into an integrated pouch with a MOLLE attachment. The jacket pairs tactical functionality with casual duty and outdoor wearability.

Main features

Built for mobility and easy storage, the jacket balances warmth, wind resistance and modular transport options.

- Lightweight and packable: 100% nylon taslan outer layers with 100% hollow?fiber polyester insulation; compresses into its integrated pocket.
- Reversible design: Vegetato (camouflage) one side, olive green the other; optional interior colors include white or TAN Desert.
- MOLLE-compatible pouch: Integrated stuff sack with M.O.L.L.E. webbing lets you attach the compressed jacket to backpacks, belts or plate carriers.
- Functional details: Central zipper with storm flap and snap buttons, elastic-close cuffs, drawcord at high collar and hem, plus two lower exterior pockets.
- Cold-weather performance: Windproof construction and tested for comfort down to -10°C.
- Durability features: Grade 5 spiral zipper and anti-slip materials on critical points for reliable use in the field.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the Lite Jacket as a mid layer in cold conditions or as a light outer shell on cool, windy days. Its reversible colors let you switch between camouflage and a plain olive look to suit different environments or duty requirements.

Quick answer: Pack it into the integrated pouch and clip it to a MOLLE webbing point for fast access on hikes, patrols, or travel. In most cases, it serves as a compact, transportable warm layer for tactical, police, duty or general outdoor use.

Care and notes

Follow the garment label for washing and maintenance to preserve insulation and fabric performance. Note that the jacket is windproof but not specified as fully waterproof.

- Follow care label instructions for washing and drying.
- Do not assume waterproof performance—treat as windproof and water?resistant at best.
- Compress only when dry to avoid trapping moisture in the insulation.
- Inspect MOLLE attachments and zippers regularly for wear before field use.

FAQ

Q: What temperatures is the jacket suitable for?

A: The jacket is tested for comfort down to -10°C and provides wind protection. Layering is recommended for lower temperatures or prolonged exposure.

Q: How do I compress and carry the jacket?

A: Fold the jacket into itself and place it inside the integrated zip pocket / pouch. The pouch has M.O.L.L.E. webbing so you can secure it to packs, belts or vests.

Q: Which color options are available?

A: Standard configuration is vegetation camo on one side and olive green on the other. Interior color options include white or TAN Desert on request.

Q: Is the jacket waterproof?

A: The jacket is windproof and made of anti-crease nylon, but it is not specified as fully waterproof. For heavy rain use a dedicated waterproof layer.

Q: Can I use this jacket for tactical or police duty?

A: Yes, the design and features (reversible colors, MOLLE pouch, compactness) make it suitable for tactical, duty and police applications as a lightweight insulated layer.

Q: How should I clean the jacket?

A: Follow the washing instructions on the product label. Generally, use gentle wash cycles and avoid high-heat drying to protect the hollow-fiber insulation and nylon shell.

Tip: Choose the color variant and size that match your typical use—camouflage for field work, olive for casual or duty wear—and check related tactical jackets and accessories to build a complete layering system.
