- High collector appeal: suited for collectors of military surplus, tactical and police-related memorabilia.

How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: apply the band by folding the side flaps to secure it onto a strap, edge or similar thin item; the flaps keep it in place. The compact size makes it suitable as a tag, keepsake, or small identifier.

In most cases, buyers use the Fascetta ETNA 2001 as a collectible or as a historical marker on kit, display pieces, or in collections of military surplus and tactical gear. It works well when you want a subtle, durable reminder of the July 2001 Etna events.

Care and notes

Basic care and ordering notes to preserve the finish and complete your purchase smoothly.

- Wipe clean with a soft cloth to remove dust or fingerprints.
- Avoid harsh abrasives or strong chemicals that could alter the bronzed finish.
- Limited availability: stock is produced in small quantities and may sell out.
- Ordering requirement: to facilitate the order, please send a copy of the required attestation via the site’s Contact form.

FAQ

Q: What material is the Fascetta ETNA 2001 made of?

A: It is made of bronzed metal, chosen for a durable appearance and resistance to normal handling.

Q: What are the exact dimensions?

A: The band measures 38 mm × 7 mm, providing a discreet but visible tag size suitable for displays or small items.

Q: What does the “ETNA 2001” engraving refer to?

A: The engraving refers to the volcanic activity of Mount Etna in July 2001, officially noted in the DPCM of 07/02/2008.

Q: How do I attach the band?

A: Use the foldable side flaps: position the band where needed, fold the flaps over the strap or edge and press to secure. The flaps hold the band in place for a stable fit.

Q: Is this item commonly available?

A: No, availability is limited. Production runs are small, so it is often sought after by collectors of military surplus, tactical and police-related memorabilia.

Q: Do I need to provide any documents to order?

A: Yes. To complete your order smoothly, please send a copy of the required attestation through the site’s Contact form when requested.

Tip: Choose the right variant or size for your display and consider browsing related military surplus and tactical items to complete a themed collection.
