Product overview

The Fascetta Metallo LIGURIA 2014 is a bronze-finish metal tag for collectors, historians, and military surplus enthusiasts who value commemorative and functional items. It features an engraved "Liguria 2014" marking that refers to the 2014 weather events in Liguria (DPCM 13/03/2017) and foldable side tabs for adaptable use.

Definition: A small metal identification band with foldable wings, intended as a commemorative collectible and practical accessory for tactical, military surplus, duty, and police gear collectors.

Main features

Compact and durable, this fascetta combines a historical reference with simple functionality suitable for display or attachment to equipment.

- Material: Bronze-finish metal for lasting appearance and resistance to wear.
- Engraving: Precise "Liguria 2014" inscription referencing the 2014 events.
- Foldable wings: Side tabs fold for easy attachment and storage.
- Size: 38 mm length x 7 mm height—small and easy to handle.
- Collectible value: Produced in limited quantities and aimed at collectors and surplus buyers.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the fascetta as a collectible display piece, a label on storage or equipment, or an identifying band on tactical bags and cases. Its foldable wings let you attach it to thin straps, small boxes, or display mounts.

Quick answer: It is primarily a commemorative tag with practical attachment options. In most cases, collectors and military surplus shoppers use it for display, labeling, or light-duty identification rather than heavy operational use.

Care and notes

Basic care keeps the metal looking its best; treat it like other bronzed metal collectibles to preserve the finish.

- Store in a dry place to minimize tarnish or corrosion.
- Avoid abrasive cleaners and strong chemicals; wipe with a soft, dry cloth.
- Handle the foldable wings gently to prevent bending beyond their intended range.
- Note: Availability is limited; orders may require submission of documentation as described below.

FAQ
