Product overview

The Fascetta Metallo PUGLIA 2013 is a commemorative metal tag for collectors, memorial displays, and military surplus or tactical gear enthusiasts. It suits those who collect regional or event-related memorabilia, and professionals who add historical insignia to duty or police kits.

Definition: a bronzed metal tag engraved "PUGLIA 2013" made to mark the weather events referenced by DPCM 18/07/2013. It is compact, durable, and has foldable side flaps for versatile mounting.

Main features

Simple, durable design that combines historical meaning with practical use in displays or kits.

- Material: bronzed metal for long-lasting wear.
- Engraving: clear "PUGLIA 2013" marking with historical reference.
- Size: 38 mm length × 7 mm height, small and noticeable.
- Foldable flaps: side flaps fold for attachment to various surfaces or items.
- Limited availability: produced in small quantities and in demand by collectors.
- Relevant for: collectors, military surplus buyers, tactical and police gear users.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the fascetta as a commemorative tag on displays, inside collector cases, or attached to fabric and gear where a small metal plate is appropriate. It works well as a historical label or a subtle identifier on a rucksack or wall-mounted frame.

Quick answer: attach the tag by folding the side flaps around the chosen surface or secure it inside a display case. In most cases, the 38 × 7 mm size fits standard display mounts and small fabric loops common in tactical and police gear.

Care and notes

Basic care keeps the finish and engraving clear; store in a dry place and avoid abrasive cleaners.

- Wipe clean with a soft, dry cloth; avoid harsh chemicals.
- Store away from moisture to prevent patina changes over time.
- Ordering note: to place an order you must provide a copy of the required attestation via the site contact function.
- Limited stock: availability is restricted, so consider ordering promptly if you need one.
