How to use / When it’s useful

Use the nastrino on a standard ribbon bar, in a collector display, or mounted with other ribbons on a multi-place metal base for uniforms and exhibits.

Quick answer: For display on a 37 mm ribbon bar or in a collector/museum mount.
In most cases: Choose the regular version for period-correct displays and the Elite slightly domed version when you prefer a presentation-style ribbon. Select any required multi-ribbon mount from the dropdown when ordering.

Care and notes

Basic care tips and important ordering notes.

- Available only in the 37 mm standard size—confirm compatibility with your ribbon bars or mounts.
- Select the desired variant (regular or Elite) and choose multi-place mounts from the dropdown if needed.
- Original concession period: 1917–1958. Historic examples may be rare; review condition details before purchase.
- Store in a dry place and avoid prolonged exposure to moisture or harsh chemicals to help preserve the finish.

FAQ

Q: What size is the nastrino?

A: The ribbon is supplied only in the standard 37 mm format, compatible with typical military and collector ribbon bars.

Q: Can I order the nastrino with a portanastrini (multi-ribbon mount)?

A: Yes. Multi-place metal mounts for two or more ribbons are available; select the desired portanastrini option from the product dropdown menu.

Q: When was this nastrino issued?

A: The nastrino was in concession from 1917 to 1958. That historic issuance period is why original examples are uncommon.

Q: Which variants are available?

A: Two variants: the regular (flat) format and the slightly domed Elite version. Choose based on display preference.

Q: What materials are used?

A: The ribbon is made from durable, high-quality materials designed for lasting appearance. Specific metals or fabrics are not specified in the listing.

Q: Is this listing for an original or a reproduction?

A: The product description states the historic concession period. For details on provenance and condition (original vs. modern reproduction), check the item specifics on the product page or contact the seller before purchasing.

Tip: When ordering, confirm the 37 mm size and choose the regular or Elite variant to match your display. Consider adding a multi-ribbon mount if you plan to show multiple ribbons together, and browse related military surplus and insignia items to complete your collection.
