- Material and shape: Durable plastic in a trapezoidal form for consistent fit and appearance.
- Finish: Blue sheath with a silver frame for a professional uniform look.
- Rank symbols: Two overlapping red plinths topped by a crowned eagle with a five-towered mural crown in silver tones.

How to use / When it's useful

Insert the tubolare into the epaulette of your shirt or sweater for an immediate, neat display of rank. Quick answer: slide the tubolare into the epaulette pocket so the front face is fully visible.

These are useful whenever you need a clear on-duty rank display—daily patrols, custodial duties, formal inspections, or any duty requiring official identification. In most cases, the tubolare remains secured during normal activity; verify fit before the first shift.
