Product description:

Product overview

The TW1000 RSG2 ballistic-jet refill is a professional defensive spray refill designed for police and authorized private security. It is a compact, high-precision cartridge intended for duty use where controlled, targeted response is required.

Definition: this refill provides a concentrated ballistic jet of irritant solution for temporary incapacitation of an aggressor, reserved for trained law enforcement and licensed security personnel and sold through authorized channels such as Tutto Militare.

Main features

Compact, targeted and built for professional carry and quick deployment.

- Composition: 20 ml of active irritant solution.
- Shots: 8 bursts of approximately 1 second each.
- Range: Effective up to 3 meters for controlled engagement.
- Delivery: Ballistic jet for high precision and limited ambient contamination.
- Carry system: Fits an ergonomic black non-slip grip with metal belt hook for secure mounting.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the refill installed in the ergonomic grip provided with the TW1000 RSG2 system. Draw, aim at the attacker's face and deliver a short burst—this device is designed for close-quarters incidents where a precise, contained response is needed.

Quick answer: deploy one 1-second burst at a distance of about 1–3 meters and repeat only if necessary (do not exceed 2–3 consecutive bursts). In most cases, a single precise burst is enough to stop aggressive action while minimizing risk to bystanders.

Care and notes

Follow department procedures for storage, inspection and replacement. Handle refills as controlled equipment and keep records according to your agency rules.

- Authorization required: sale restricted to police forces and licensed private security; service ID registration is required at purchase.
- Storage: keep in the ergonomic holder and store at recommended temperatures per your agency guidelines.
- Usage limits: do not exceed 2–3 consecutive bursts to avoid overexposure.
- Safety: ballistic jet reduces passive contamination but avoid deliberate use near uninvolved people; effects are temporary.
- Payments: PayPal not accepted for this item; available payment methods include bank/postal transfer or credit card via Sinergia Payway.

FAQ

Q: Who can purchase the TW1000 RSG2 refill?

A: It is sold only to police forces and authorized private security personnel. Buyers must register their service ID at checkout.

Q: How many bursts are in each refill?

A: Each refill contains 8 bursts of roughly 1 second each. Total usable bursts depend on operational use.

Q: What is the effective range of the ballistic jet?

A: The ballistic jet reaches up to 3 meters, allowing a safe stand-off distance while maintaining precision in close-quarters situations.

Q: What effects does the spray produce on an aggressor?

A: The active solution causes intense eye irritation, tearing and temporary blindness, respiratory burning with coughing, and skin burning sensations. Effects are temporary and typically resolve within a few hours.

Q: Can the public buy this spray for personal defense?

A: No. The TW1000 RSG2 is restricted to law enforcement and authorized security personnel and cannot be sold to the general public.

Q: Are there any purchase or regulatory requirements?

A: Yes. Sales require verification of authorization and registration of the buyer’s service ID. The product complies with applicable European and Italian rules governing non-lethal force devices.

Tip: Choose the correct refill compatible with your TW1000 RSG2 grip and duty system, and browse related tactical and police-duty items to ensure you carry a complete, compliant kit for professional use.
