Alpini 2nd Asiago Mountain Artillery Group Badge

www.tuttomilitare.com
www.tuttomilitare.com

Product price:

€25.00 tax included

Product codes:

Reference: Art. 3450
EAN13: - UPC: -

Product features:

Product short description:

Enamelled metal badge: Distintivo Metallo Smaltato Alpini 2° Asiago Gruppo Artiglieria Montagna. A symbol of pride and tradition for collectors and military history enthusiasts, it honors the service and heritage of Italy's Alpini. Suitable for display or wearing as a respectful tribute to mountain artillery units.

- Material: Enamelled metal construction with a detailed finish.
- Use: Wear on jackets, caps or lapels, or display in a collection.
- Design: Intricate motif reflecting mountain artillery missions and Alpini heritage.
- Ideal for: Collectors, historians and fans of Italian military history.

Product description:

Product overview

The Enameled Metal Badge of the 2° Asiago Mountain Artillery Group is a collectible emblem for military history enthusiasts, collectors of military surplus, and those interested in alpine artillery units. Definition: it is a metal, enamel-finished lapel-style badge representing the 2° Asiago Artiglieria Montagna unit.

This badge recalls the post?war Italian alpine artillery tradition tied to the Gruppo Artiglieria Montagna "Asiago" (active 1952–1991). It suits display, private collections, and historical study rather than official duty or police use.

Main features

Simple, durable construction with historical symbolism and clear measurements—designed for collectors and display.

- Unit: 2° Asiago, Gruppo Artiglieria Montagna (Brigata Tridentina affiliation).
- Material: enameled metal for color durability and a refined finish.
- Design: mule and handler motif with snowy mountain background, symbolizing alpine artillery transport and terrain.
- Motto: "Tasi e Tira" (interpreted as "Be quiet and move on"), reflecting the alpine spirit of resilience.
- Dimensions: width 2.5 cm × height 3.2 cm.
- Historical period: associated with the unit formed 1 July 1952 and in service until its disbandment on 1 June 1991.

How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: use the badge for display, storage in a collection, or as a gift for military memorabilia enthusiasts. It is intended as a collectible emblem, not as certified operational gear for tactical or duty use.

In most cases, collectors place the badge in a frame, on a display board, or in a protective case to keep enamel and metal in good condition. It is also appropriate for historical exhibits, private study, and thematic collections related to military surplus, tactical history, or police and duty memorabilia.

Care and notes

Keep the badge as a collectible item and follow basic care to preserve finish and detail.

- Wipe gently with a soft, dry cloth; avoid abrasive cleaners and harsh chemicals.
- Store in a dry place away from direct sunlight to prevent color fading.
- Handle by the edges to reduce fingerprints and wear on the enamel.
- Note: this is a commemorative/collectible emblem and not an official, certified item for active duty use.

FAQ

Q: What material is the badge made of?

A: The badge is made of enameled metal, chosen for durability and stable color finish suitable for display and collection.

Q: What are the exact dimensions?

A: The badge measures 2.5 cm in width and 3.2 cm in height, compact enough for framed displays or a collection board.

Q: Can I buy this badge online from your store?

A: Yes, the badge is offered through our e-commerce catalog. Check product availability and shipping options at checkout.

Q: What does the motto "Tasi e Tira" mean?

A: The motto is a concise expression of alpine determination, roughly translated as "Be quiet and move on," indicating resilience and practical action.

Q: Is this badge suitable as a gift?

A: Absolutely. It is a thoughtful gift for collectors of militaria, enthusiasts of alpine units, or anyone interested in military surplus and tactical history.

Q: Are there other badges from the Brigata Tridentina?

A: Yes, the Brigata Tridentina includes several unit-specific insignia and badges, each representing different regiments and historical roles.

Tip: Choose the right variant or size for your display and consider browsing related military surplus and tactical memorabilia to complete your collection.

Product attributes:

Product gallery: