Product overview

The Dragona da Generale is a ceremonial officer's braid designed for high-ranking officers of the Esercito, Carabinieri and Marina Militare. It is intended to complete formal uniforms, adding a clear symbol of rank and tradition for generals and senior captains.

Definition: a decorative silver braid (dragona) made of metallic threads and a tassel, sized to attach to an officer's sabre guard. Ideal for military surplus collectors, ceremonial duty, and police or tactical display uniforms.

Main features

This Dragona combines traditional handcraft with durable materials to keep official appearance and proportion for parade and ceremonial use.

- Total length: about 30 cm from the attachment point to the fold.
- Cord: silver-colored woven metallic threads, flexible yet sturdy.
- Passante (slider): four wraps of the same cord, fixed at mid-point to allow adjustment.
- Tassel (nappa) stem: 4 cm long with seven wrapped metallic threads and two helical bullion turns at the top.
- Tassel body: ovoid shape, 5 cm long, 12 cm circumference at the center, ten fixed bullion fringes and eight helical bullion turns.
- Attachment: fits to the sabre guard via a slip knot through the guard hole for stability.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the Dragona by passing the cord through the sabre guard hole and securing it with a slip knot; the passante slides to adjust fit. It is designed for ceremonial wear during parades, official events, and guard duty where a formal uniform is required.

Quick answer: it attaches to the sabre guard with a slip knot through the guard hole for a secure, neat fit. In most cases, it is compatible with the official sabres used by Italian Armed Forces and suitable for tactical, military surplus, duty, and police ceremonial roles.

Care and notes

Proper care keeps the Dragona looking its best and preserves its structure for long-term display or use.

- Clean with a soft, dry cloth to remove dust; avoid metal polish that can stain the threads.
- Store in a dry place away from direct sunlight to reduce oxidation or discoloration.
- Avoid excessive bending or folding of the cord and tassel to preserve shape and integrity.

FAQ

Q: What is the total length of the Dragona?

A: The Dragona measures about 30 cm from the attachment point to the fold. This length is standard for ceremonial use on officer sabres.

Q: What material is the Dragona made of?

A: It is made from high-quality silver-colored metallic threads and helical bullion for the tassel decorations. The inner core of the tassel has a rigid element for shape.

Q: Is the Dragona compatible with all sabres?

A: Yes, it is designed to be compatible with the official sabres used by the Italian Armed Forces. Fit may vary with non-standard or decorative sabres.

Q: How is the Dragona attached to the sabre?

A: The cord is secured to the sabre guard using a slip knot passed through the guard hole. This method keeps the Dragona stable and allows quick removal or adjustment.

Q: How should I clean and store the Dragona?

A: Wipe gently with a soft, dry cloth for routine cleaning. Store in a dry, shaded place and handle gently to avoid deforming the cord or tassel.

Q: Can I order multiple units or place a bulk order?

A: Bulk or custom orders are typically available; contact the seller or customer service to arrange larger quantities or specific needs for duty, police, or military surplus use.

Tip: Choose the correct variant and inspect dimensions (length 30 cm, tassel stem 4 cm, tassel body 5 cm, 12 cm circumference) before ordering; also browse related ceremonial and uniform accessories to complete your presentation.
