Product overview

The Patch Brevetto Carrista Personalizzato is a high-density embroidered identification patch for Carristi and Pilota Mezzi Corazzati in the Italian Army, designed for operational uniforms and tactical gear. It is intended for active military personnel and licensed collectors who need an accurate, durable badge with personal data.

Definition: a personalized carrista brevet patch is a removable embroidered emblem that shows unit identity and the wearer's service number and blood group. Ideal for tactical, military surplus and duty uniform use, it matches combat shirts, jackets and other field garments.

Main features

Clear, durable design that combines symbolic elements with practical personalization for field or ceremonial use.

- Design: central dragon holding a tank silhouette, motto "FERREA MOLE FERREO CUORE", laurel and oak branches.
- Personalization: embroidered service number (bottom left) and blood group (bottom right).
- Materials: high-density embroidery on green fabric; silver or gold thread finish options.
- Size: 8 cm width × 5 cm length.
- Attachment: industrial Velcro on the rear for secure, removable fit.
- Production: handmade in Italy, 7–15 working days per order.
- Compliance with service use: visual style aligns with Truppe Corazzate Italiane insignia conventions.

How to use / When it's useful

Apply the patch to Velcro-compatible areas of operational uniforms, combat shirts or tactical vests. The removable backing allows quick transfer between garments and secure fit during exercises, vehicle deployments or patrols.

Quick answer: use it on field uniforms for clear identification and medical info. In most cases, the silver-thread version is worn in peacetime conditions and the gold-thread variant is reserved for wartime/operational recognition where allowed by regulations.

Care and notes

Important handling and ordering notes to ensure correct personalization and long service life.

- Provide an accurate service number and blood group at order; these are embroidered exactly as supplied.
- Sales reserved to active military personnel and collectors with a valid licenza prefettizia ex art. 28 TULPS; identity verification is required.
- Production time is typically 7–15 working days, plus shipping.
- The industrial Velcro is stitched for durability; remove if you need to launder the garment according to the garment maker’s care instructions.

- Gold thread is intended for wartime use where applicable under current rules; silver is the common peacetime choice.

FAQ

Q: Who can order the personalized Carrista patch?

A: Orders are reserved to active military personnel and collectors who hold the required licenza prefettizia ex art. 28 TULPS. Identity verification is mandatory before purchase.

Q: Are the service number and blood group required?

A: Yes. Both the service number and the blood group are integral parts of the customization and are embroidered as provided by the customer.

Q: How long does production take?

A: Custom production normally takes 7–15 working days depending on order volume, plus shipping time. Rush options are not guaranteed.

Q: How do I submit the required documents?

A: Send a copy of your military ID or service certificate through the site’s reserved verification process or register with the delivery address of your barracks as proof.

Q: Is the patch removable?

A: Yes. The patch has an industrial Velcro backing for secure attachment and easy removal when needed.

Q: Can I choose the gold or silver thread freely?

A: Thread choice is offered, but the gold variant is traditionally linked to wartime recognition and should be chosen according to applicable service rules.

Tip: When ordering, double-check your service number and blood group for accuracy, choose the thread variant that matches your service context, and consider matching the patch to your combat shirt or tactical gear for consistent display.
