- Ribbon: Bright orange grosgrain ribbon, 37 mm wide, with vertical green and white stripes at the edges.
- Materials and finish: Gold-tone metal, fired enamel, glossy anticorrosive finish; hand-finished details.
- Use: Produced for ceremonial and collector use; fixing system sold separately.
- Packaging: Individually finished and prepared for secure shipping.

How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: Wear it on ceremonial uniforms, mount it in a display case, or add it to a themed medal board for exhibitions and reenactment. The medal signals humanitarian service and national recognition in a ceremonial context.

In most cases, collectors and museums display the medal in a protective case or mounted on a ribbon bar; units and associations use it for symbolic presentations during events. It is also appropriate for military surplus or tactical collections that include humanitarian insignia related to duty, police, or peacekeeping contexts.

Care and notes

Handle the medal gently and store it in a protective case to preserve enamel and finish.

- Clean with a soft, dry cloth; avoid abrasive cleaners and strong chemicals.
- Store in a dry, padded box or display case to prevent scratches and corrosion.
- Fixing system (pin or mount) is sold separately—check your uniform or display requirements before ordering.
- This item is a reproduction for collectible or ceremonial use and not an official state award.

FAQ

Q: Is this medal an original state award?

A: No. This is a reproduction made to match the original design for ceremonial and collector purposes, not a government-issued decoration.

Q: Do I need a license to buy this medal?

A: No license or permit is required. The medal is offered as an item for collectors, reenactors, and uniform reproduction.

Q: Can I order multiple copies for a group or association?

A: Yes. Multiple units are available; please contact the seller for volume orders and any bulk pricing or delivery details.

Q: What material is the medal made from?

A: The medal is made from gold-tone metal with fired enamel. It has a glossy, anticorrosive finish and hand-finished details.

Q: Does the medal come with a presentation case?

A: Each medal is individually finished and can be supplied with a protective case and identification card upon request; check the product options when ordering.

Q: Is a mini or ribbon-only version available?

A: At present the smaller gala or ribbon-only versions are not available. Please check back for stock updates or contact customer service for alternatives.

Tip: Choose the ribbon width and mounting style that match your uniform or display needs, and browse related military surplus and humanitarian insignia to complete a themed collection without rushing your decision.
