Product overview

The Aeronautica Militare lanyard is an official neck pass designed for military personnel, veterans, collectors and aviation enthusiasts who want a recognizable, functional accessory. It is suitable for duty use, tactical environments, airport staff and police or security roles that require quick ID access.

Definition: a lanyard is a neck-worn strap for carrying badges, ID cards, keys and small service tools. This model features a blue polyester ribbon printed with the Aeronautica Militare name, a gold eagle emblem and a tricolour disc, and it is supplied with an authenticity hologram.

Main features

Compact, durable and clearly branded, the lanyard combines practical attachments with institutional styling.

- Material: blue polyester ribbon for strength, print quality and quick drying
- Size: 2 cm width; total length 98 cm (approx. 49 cm per side when worn)
- Attachments: metal carabiner for badge holders, key rings and small tools
- Safety clip: plastic quick-release clip to detach the terminal section
- Branding: printed “Aeronautica Militare” text, gold eagle emblem and tricolour disc
- Authenticity: official product supplied with an authenticity hologram

How to use / When it’s useful

Use the lanyard to keep badges, ID cards, service keys and small devices accessible and secure at chest height. It is practical for routine checks, rapid ID presentation and moving between offices, hangars or event areas without searching pockets.

Quick answer: Use it to carry badges, keys, USB sticks, mini torches and small remote controls for quick access. In most cases, wear it around the neck so the badge or keys rest at chest level for easy one-handed reach without interfering with belts, holsters or tactical gear.

Care and notes

Easy maintenance keeps the printed graphics and fabric in good condition.

- Hand wash with lukewarm water and mild detergent; avoid aggressive bleaches.
- Air dry away from direct heat or sunlight to preserve colour and print.
- Store hung or laid flat to avoid sharp folds that could deform the ribbon or print.
- The quick-release clip reduces strain on the neck if the lanyard is caught; still use caution around moving machinery or snag hazards.

FAQ

Q: Is this lanyard an official Aeronautica Militare product?

A: Yes. It is an authorized product and includes an authenticity hologram to confirm origin and licensing.

Q: What are the exact dimensions?

A: The ribbon is 2 cm wide and the total length is 98 cm (approximately 49 cm per side when worn), sized for comfortable daily use.

Q: Can I attach a standard transparent badge holder?

A: Yes. The metal carabiner fits rigid and soft badge holders, transparent sleeves, key rings and similar accessories.

Q: Is the plastic clip removable?

A: The clip is integrated as a quick-release point to detach the terminal section without removing the lanyard from the neck.

Q: Can civilians use this lanyard?

A: Certainly. It is suitable for airport staff, private security, event crews, aviation clubs and collectors who want a functional, identifiable accessory.

Q: How can I check the product is authentic?

A: Verify the hologram on the product packaging or label and ensure you purchase from an authorized seller to confirm genuine provenance.

Tip: Choose the right variant for your routine—consider whether you need extra key rings or a specific badge holder—and browse related Aeronautica Militare insignia and badge holders to complete your duty or collection setup.
