Product overview

The Giubbino Bomber Aeronautica MA-1 Green is a classic flight-style bomber jacket for people who want military-inspired outerwear with practical features. It suits tactical, military surplus, duty or casual wear and is popular with pilots, security and everyday users.

Definition: the MA-1 is a nylon flight jacket with a high-visibility orange polyester lining originally designed for pilots. Built from durable materials with practical pockets and elasticated ribbing, it is made for year-round use in mild to cool conditions.

Main features

Key construction and functional details:

- Shell: 100% nylon for durability and light weather protection.
- Lining: 100% polyester high-visibility orange inner lining for emergency visibility.
- Shoulder pocket: Left sleeve zip pocket with integrated pen holder.
- Front pockets: Two lower pockets secured with metal snap buttons.
- Fit details: Elasticated ribbed collar, cuffs and waistband for a snug, wind-resistant fit.
- Weather resistance: Water-resistant surface suitable for light rain and wind.
- Customization: Available for patch and embroidery personalization on request.

How to use / When it’s useful

Use this MA-1 as a mid-layer or outer shell in spring, autumn and cool winter days. It performs well for everyday urban wear, light outdoor tasks and roles that need a tactical or military look without heavy insulation. Quick answer: it protects from wind and light rain but is not intended for heavy downpours.

In most cases, choose your usual jacket size for a regular fit; size up if you plan to wear thick layers underneath. The jacket is also a good base for adding patches or embroidery to match duty, police or military-surplus styling.

Care and notes

Basic care and important notes to preserve the jacket:

- Check and follow the garment care label for specific washing instructions.
- Wash gently in cold water and line dry to protect the shell and lining.
- Avoid bleach and high-heat drying; do not iron directly on patches or printed areas.
- Not fully waterproof — avoid prolonged exposure to heavy rain.
- Remove or secure loose patches before washing if possible.

FAQ

Q: Is the MA-1 bomber jacket waterproof?

A: No, it is not fully waterproof. The 100% nylon shell is water-resistant and sheds light rain and wind, but it is not designed for heavy or prolonged downpours.

Q: Can I personalize the jacket with patches or embroidery?

A: Yes. Tutto Militare offers customization options for patches and embroidery on request so you can add unit-style insignia, logos or personal designs.

Q: What sizes are available for the MA-1?

A: The jacket is offered in multiple sizes. Consult the store’s size guide to find the best fit, especially if you plan to layer clothing underneath.

Q: What materials make up the jacket?

A: The outer shell is 100% nylon and the inner lining is 100% polyester in high-visibility orange, a feature originating from pilot flight gear for emergency visibility.

Q: What is the origin or history of the MA-1?

A: The MA-1 originated as a U.S. military flight jacket in the 1950s. Early versions followed military specifications (MIL-SPEC) and the design later moved into civilian fashion with the same functional features.

Q: How should I care for the jacket to keep it in good condition?

A: Follow the garment label: gentle washing in cold water and line drying are recommended. Avoid high heat and do not iron directly over patches or the orange lining.

Tip: Choose your size using the provided size guide and consider the type of layering you’ll wear underneath. Browse related tactical and military surplus jackets to compare fits and customization options before purchase.
