Product overview

The nastrino Emergenza Etna 1991-1992 is a service ribbon issued to recognize people who served during the Mount Etna emergency of 1991–1992. It is suitable for veterans, emergency responders, collectors, and anyone who wants a formal duty or police/military recognition item.

Definition: this is an official-style commemorative ribbon awarded for service during the Etna eruption, offered in standard ribbon formats and attachment options. The item has historical value and limited availability due to demand.

Main features

Clear, regulation-style options with choice of finish and attachments make this ribbon adaptable for display, uniform wear, or collection.

- Regulation flat format: conforms to the standard flat ribbon style used for official wear.
- Elite variant (slightly domed): a slightly rounded finish for a refined appearance.
- Rear attachment options: choose between clamp (morsetti) or screw (viti) fittings in the product menu.
- 37 mm width: standard 37 mm ribbon; also available as a loose medal ribbon.
- Multi-ribbon mounting: can be supplied mounted on two-place or larger ribbon bars for orderly display.
- Limited stock: historically significant item with high demand—limited quantities available.

How to use / When it’s useful

Quick answer: use this ribbon for uniform wear, commemorative displays, or as part of a military surplus or tactical collection. It works well for formal recognition of service during the 1991–1992 Etna emergency.

In most cases, choose the flat regulation format for official-style wear and the Elite variant if you prefer a slightly elevated look. Select the rear attachment (clamp or screw) and whether you want the ribbon mounted on a multi-place ribbon bar or sold loose.

Care and notes

Store and handle the ribbon like other uniform ribbons or medal ribbons to maintain its appearance and mounting integrity.

- Keep away from moisture and direct sunlight to avoid fading.
- Attach using the selected clamp or screw fitting; check tightness before wear.
- Order mounting on a ribbon bar if you need a neat multi-ribbon display.
- Limited availability: allow for possible backorder if stock is low.

FAQ

Q: What does this ribbon commemorate?

A: It recognizes service and contribution during the 1991–1992 Mount Etna emergency, granted as a tangible acknowledgment of sacrifice and dedication.

Q: Which formats are available?

A: Available in the regulation flat format and the slightly domed Elite variant. The ribbon is also offered as a loose medal ribbon.

Q: What attachment options are offered?

A: Rear attachments can be ordered with clamps (morsetti) or screw fittings (viti); select your preferred option in the product menu.

Q: Can I have the ribbon mounted on a multi-place ribbon bar?

A: Yes. The ribbon can be supplied mounted on two-place or larger ribbon bars for orderly display and uniform presentation.

Q: What is the ribbon width?

A: The ribbon is the standard 37 mm width commonly used for medal ribbons and regulation ribbon bars.

Q: Is stock limited?

A: Yes. Demand is high and quantities are limited due to the ribbon's historical significance; consider ordering promptly if you need one.

Tip: When ordering, choose the format (flat or Elite), attachment type (clamp or screw), and whether you want the ribbon loose or mounted on a multi-place ribbon bar. Browse related tactical and military surplus ribbons if you need matching duty or police recognition items.
